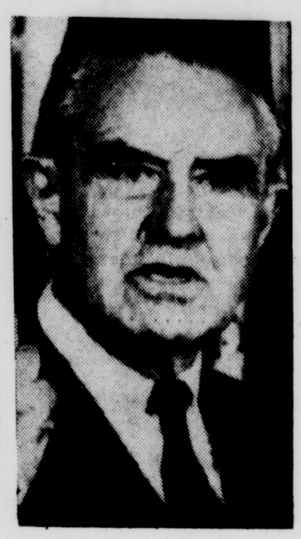
Harriman Blows Up At Briefing



HARRIMAN REPORTS — W. Averell Harriman, reporting yesterday on his recent nuclear test ban negotiations in Moscow, told the National Press Club yesterday not to be under any illusion that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is any less intent than former dictator Stalin on achieving worldwide Communist domination. "There's a material difference in how they go about it," said Harriman. He indicated the difference is that Khrushchev wants to avoid nuclear war while pushing Communist goals. (AP Photofax)

GOP Legislator Says Outburst Came As Shock

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman got into a "screaming fuss" with a Republican congressman Wednesday at a briefing on the nuclear test ban treaty, witnesses reported.

Harriman, who headed the negotiating team in Moscow, invited congressmen of both parties to the meeting to explain the treaty and answer questions. About 50 or 60 showed up, about half Republicans, half Democrats.

Rep. John R. Pillion, R-N.Y., reportedly asked Harriman a question implying the treaty would play into Soviet Premier "Khrushchev's blueprint" for world domination and asking what concessions Harriman got in return.

"That really set him off," Pillion told a newsman later. "He really blew up. He said he'd like to know where I'm from and what my district is so he could go to the mothers and children on the question of war and use this as a political weapon in an election campaign against me. I told him he'd be welcome. He said he's not for nuclear war, implying that I was."

There was no immediate comment from Harriman on Pillion's report.

Pillion said he thought the outburst was "extraordinary. It shocked everybody."

Others present said they were surprised.

One called it a "screaming fuss." Another said strong language was involved in the shouted exchange.

A Democrat said most of the Republicans received Harriman's explanation of the treaty coolly, but Democrats applauded him.

Harriman has drawn high praise for his role in negotiating the treaty, and his presentation of it to a Senate committee meeting. The Senate must ratify it.

ACCUSES REDS—William M. Loeb, publisher of the Manchester (N. H.) Union Leader, testifies before the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday. He told the senators that "Communists definitely are a factor in the civil rights agitation." The committee is studying proposed civil rights legislation. (AP Photofax)

Rights Hearing Told RFK Guilty Of Coverup Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — A New England newspaper publisher joined Southern segregationists Wednesday in leveling new charges of communism in the civil rights controversy.

From both North and South came attacks on Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for saying there is no evidence of Communist involvement in racial demonstrations around the country.

William Loeb, publisher of the Manchester, N.H., Union Leader, alleged that "Communists definitely are a factor in the civil rights agitation."

He said the cold facts make the attorney general's statement "entirely unbelievable and entitled to no credibility whatsoever."

Loeb's testimony against President Kennedy's public accommodations bill came in the wake of a charge by State Sen. John C. McLaurin of Mississippi that Atty. Gen. Kennedy was guilty of "the most brazen coverup job ever perpetrated on the American people."

McLaurin challenged the Senate Commerce Committee to call FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to testify.

"I am sure he could present ample evidence that the Communists were and now are using the self-styled Negro leaders as a part of the Communist conspiracy," he said.

During this new flareup over the Red issue, Kennedy was making his fifth appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

He and Sen. Sam Ervin Jr., D-N.C., continued their lengthy argument over the constitutionality of basing the public accommodations bill on the government's power to regulate interstate commerce.

They got into a discussion of whether goods shipped across state lines are still subject to federal regulation after they have come to rest.

Ervin contended the sale of goods after they have been brought into a state and come to rest in that state is not a transaction in interstate commerce. Kennedy argues it is.

Lobby Fees Barred

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House after a last bitter fight Wednesday passed and sent to the White House legislation to bar payment of lobbyist fees under the $73 million Phillippines war claim measure enacted last year.

Gls Step Up Korean Hunt For Raiders

Guns Carried By Two Slain Reds Used In Ambush

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Spotlights illuminate the banks of the Imjin River where reinforced U.S. Army patrols searched for North Korean Communist suicide squads.

Soldiers of the 1st Cavalry and 7th Infantry divisions took some solace Wednesday in the news that the lives of three dead buddies had been avenged. Two were killed in an ambush Monday, and the third in a brushfire fight Tuesday.

"Ballistic tests have proven conclusively that submachine guns taken from the two North Koreans killed Tuesday afternoon are the same used in the Monday morning ambush attack," the U.N. Command spokesman said.

Slain Reds Had Soviet Arms

Two North Korean soldiers mowed down by U.S. soldiers Tuesday were part of the same suicide squad that penetrated South Korea at least six miles.

They were carrying U.S. currency and armed with Soviet automatic weapons and hand grenades.

Brig. Gen. Charles Pershing Brown of McAlester, Okla., acting commander of the 1st Cavalry Division, was surprised at the discovery of ballistics experts that groove markings on the lead slugs fired by the captured Communist guns matched those taken from the bodies of the dead soldiers.

"Riding Shotgun"

Brown had about decided that the infiltrator group which ambushed the jeep escaped to the north.

Increased enemy activity along the 18½-mile front patrolled by the cavalry led Brown to order searchlights to brighten the area. He also ordered out heavier patrols and a power boat loaded with armed soldiers to look into coves along the river banks. Jeeps may no longer travel alone.

"There must be at least two vehicles in every detail and we've started riding shotgun throughout the area," Brown said.

Bill Calls For 60 More Days Of Rail Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five Senate Democrats introduced legislation Wednesday to require 60 more days of bargaining in the railroad work rules dispute. Both sides would be directed to negotiate, a strike or lockout would be prohibited and a special congressional watchdog committee would oversee the talks.

Sen. Clair Engle of California, one of the sponsors, said if no solution is found after the 60 days, "then it will be necessary for us to move to compulsion of one form or another against either the carriers or the unions in order to prevent a strike that would have a disastrous effect on the economy of this country."

He said he had offered the new proposal because "it is impossible for us (Congress) to resolve the questions involved" before a nationwide rail strike deadline—Aug. 29.

The proposal would substitute for President Kennedy's bill authorizing the Interstate Commerce Commission to hand down binding rulings on the job-reducing work rules. They would be effective during a two-year period unless supplanted by a negotiated agreement.

The railroads have endorsed the Kennedy plan, the five on-train unions have denounced it as a form of compulsory arbitration and Congress has shown a reluctance to act.

Film Stars Will Join Capital Rights March

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actors Charlton Heston, Marlon Brando, Tony Curtis, Mel Ferrer, Tony Franciosa, Peter Brown and Burt Lancaster and director Billy Wilder said Wednesday they will march on the nation's capital next month in support of pending civil rights legislation.

The delegation, which met at Heston's home Tuesday night to map plans for the march, said in a statement they would march on Washington, D. C. Aug. 28 "to express our support for the civil rights legislation now before Congress."

Secretary Rusk Heads 12-Man Treaty Mission

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Two Republicans and four Democrats were named by President Kennedy Wednesday to a Senate delegation which will accompany Secretary of State Dean Rusk to Moscow Friday for the formal signing of the nuclear test ban treaty.

A 12-man mission also includes United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson.

The ceremonial treaty signing is expected to take place Monday. But Rusk may spend about a week in Moscow to explore Kremlin ideas for reducing cold war tensions.

Five senators, Rusk and five others first listed by the White House for the trip. About eight hours after that announcement, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., chairman of the European affairs subcommittee of the Foreign Relations Committee, was added to the delegation.

The inclusion of Sens. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., and George D. Aiken, R-Vt., in the delegation set to rest speculation that the plan for sending a congressional group with Rusk might be dropped unless leading Republicans agreed to go and give a bipartisan color to the mission.

Besides Santonstall and Aiken, the senatorial delegation includes Democrats J. W. Fulbright, Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which will launch the treaty on its ratification process through the Senate in August; Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., the Democratic Whip; and Sen. John O. Pastore, chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

Besides Rusk, Stevenson and the six senators, the party also includes William C. Foster, director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency; Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission; Llewellyn Thompson, former ambassador to the Soviet Union and now an adviser to Rusk on Soviet affairs; and Arthur Dean, who formerly headed the U.S. delegation to disarmament negotiations at Geneva.

Illia Is Elected 29th Argentine President

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Dr. Arturo Illia, a 62-year-old country doctor turned politician, was elected the 29th president of Argentina Wednesday, according to unofficial tabulations.

Illia, the son of an Italian immigrant, held 189 electoral college votes with the voting complete in 18 of the country's 23 provinces and federal district.

In the remaining five voting districts he was assured of another 55 votes being cast for his election by his own party, the People's Radical Civic Union. This would give Illia 244 votes—5 more than needed for election.

In Argentina, the people vote for members of the electoral college and the college then votes for a president but the procedure is somewhat different from that of the electoral college system in the United States.

Trainman Pushes Baby Off Tracks

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Something that smacked of the old-time melodrama of a fast train and a baby on the tracks was enacted near here Wednesday.

W. E. Hanning of Indianapolis, the engineer of a fast Pennsylvania freight, was about two miles east of here when, 1,000 feet ahead, he saw a baby sitting in the middle of the tracks.

Hanning threw on the emergency brakes. As the train slowed, fireman R. W. Larue of Indianapolis crawled out onto the front of the engine, and, as the train still rolled, reached down and pushed the baby off the tracks.

The train halted several feet down the track and the crew went back to find the baby, Shirley Ward, 1½, unhurt.

M'Namara Tells Bonn U.S. Plans No Military Cut

BONN, Germany (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was reported to have assured West German leaders Wednesday the United States plans no reduction of its military effort in Europe in view of the limited test ban accord with Britain and the Soviet Union.

Informed sources said there was no discussion of possible American troop withdrawals from Europe in McNamara's talks with leading figures of the West German government.

McNamara's calls included Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who is to step down in the fall, and Adenauer's scheduled successor, Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard.

One of McNamara's main jobs was to discuss the agreement under which West Germany spends up to $70 million a year on military goods and services in the United States. This offsets the dollar outflow due to American military expenditures in Germany. The agreement is up for renewal.

Washington wishes West Germany to spend even more in the United States, to help stop the drain on the American gold reserve.

New York Cops, Negro Pickets Trade Punches

NEW YORK (AP) — About 100 racial demonstrators got violently out of hand Wednesday for the first time at a Brooklyn construction site, and police reserves were rushed in to quell the surging, shrieking mob. Outright rioting was narrowly averted.

The flareup was brief and ended with the pickets voluntarily dispersing. But for a few moments it threatened to explode into the gravest crisis thus far in the city's hot, and racially tense summer.

Mounted police helped press back the crowd of Negro and white demonstrators at the Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, where for three weeks pickets have been demanding more jobs for Negro and Puerto Rican construction workers.

Police traded punches with Negro demonstrators and two Negro women claimed to have suffered injuries.

In the past three weeks, nearly 750 demonstrators have been arrested throughout the city, all but about 100 of them at the Brooklyn hospital site.

There were more than a score of arrests in Brooklyn during the day, and eight others at Queens and Manhattan demonstration sites.

Hurley Will Be Buried Friday

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, statesman, cabinet member and New Mexico political figure, will be buried at Santa Fe's national cemetery Friday following Roman Catholic services.

Hurley was 80 when he died in his sleep Tuesday night.

Funeral Mass will be 10 a.m. Friday at the St. Francis Cathedral.

HAVANA (UPI)—The government radio Wednesday reported the pre-dawn execution of four anti-Castro Cubans alleged to be spies in the employ of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Playboy Still Unconscious From Drugs

Society Osteopath Acquitted On Three Other Vice Charges

LONDON (AP)—An Old Bailey jury convicted Dr. Stephen Ward on two vice charges Wednesday night while the aging playboy lay in a coma at a London hospital suffering from an overdose of drugs.

Ward was acquitted on three other vice charges. Sentencing was delayed until the 50-year-old society osteopath and artist is able to appear in court.

After 4½ hours of deliberation, the jury of 11 men and one woman pronounced Ward guilty on two counts of living on the immoral earnings of prostitutes. The maximum sentence on each count is seven years in prison.

Ward's legal team immediately announced that he would appeal.

The prosecution said it would bring another, unspecified charge against him at the next court session, which opens Sept. 10.

The defendant is a central figure in the John Profumo-Christine Keeler-Yevgen Ianov-Lord Astor affair. The repercussions still are being felt in the social and political life of Britain.

Doctors slowly gained ground in their battle to keep Ward alive.

He was found unconscious Wednesday morning a short time before he was to appear in court. Justice Sir Archie Marshall sent the case to the jury, but once the verdict was in he halted further proceedings.

Specifically, Ward, 50, was convicted of living on the sex-for-sale activities of Miss Keeler, 21, and blonde Mandy Rice-Davies, 18.

The jury had wrestled with the legal complexities of a case described as one of the most publicized and sordid in recent British history.

Simultaneously, white-gowned doctors at St. Stephen's Hospital seemed to be gaining in their struggle to keep Ward alive. Hospital officials said they did not know what drug Ward had taken.

Papers Avoid Suicide Angle

While ordering the trial to continue, the judge remarked that Ward's absence "is the result of his action by his own hand."

There was no doubt that Ward was suffering from an overdose of drugs, but British newspapers and the hospital itself carefully avoided saying that Ward had tried suicide.

Under British law a suicide attempt can be determined in only one way — by a court decision based on testimony.

Ward was found unconscious by his friend and host, Noel Howard Jones, on a living room sofa.

Jones told newsmen Ward left 12 letters — six addressed to friends — to be mailed if the jury convicted him of the vice charges. Jones emphasized that these letters were not suicide notes and said he had passed them on to a member of Ward's legal team.

Vote Suit Filed In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — The federal government filed the largest voter discrimination suit in history Wednesday, demanding the immediate registration of 2,032 Negroes in the Birmingham area.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the action was brought because he could not get a guarantee from local officials that all citizens would be permitted to vote without regard to race.

Named as defendants in the 72-page suit, which was first announced in Washington, were George Bellsnyder, chairman of the Jefferson (Birmingham) County board of registrars, and members Richard M. Harris and J. M. Farris.

Ike Heads For Europe 'Nostalgic Adventure'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Dwight Eisenhower sailed for Europe and an "adventure into nostalgia" Wednesday with his wife Mamie.

"I plan to walk up and down the Normandy beaches and visit Portsmouth, England," he said.

The conference room where the D-Day decision was reached was located in Portsmouth.

The one-week visit to Europe is to make a television documentary film (CBS-TV) recalling his memories of the invasion of Europe.

Portugal Arms Curb Voted 8-0 By U.N. Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The Security Council, by an 8-0 vote, Wednesday requested all countries to impose a partial arms embargo on Portugal and called upon the Portuguese government to grant self-determination and independence to its African territories.

The United States, Britain and France, three of Portugal's four NATO allies on the council, abstained from voting on the resolution which had been watered down from the original version submitted by the African powers through resolutions submitted by Venezuela.

Portuguese Foreign Minister Alberto Franco Nogueira called it a "most revolting resolution."

The council wound up a 10-day debate on Portuguese overseas territories and plunged Wednesday afternoon into consideration of South Africa's apartheid, or racial separation, policy, the parallel complaint brought here at the instigation of the recent African summit conference at Addis Ababa.

Boy Must Pay Stiff Penalty

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A juvenile court judge Wednesday ordered a 16-year-old boy to quit high school and go to work to help support the family of a man he ran down with an auto.

Arthur J. Brookes Jr., will start immediately as a hod carrier for a bricklaying firm and turn half of his weekly paycheck over to Steven M. Breitenbach, 41, until Brookes reaches 21. He will earn $2 an hour.

Breitenbach, who has three children, was struck July 17 as he watered his lawn. He lost his right foot and suffered head and body injuries in the accident. He is a printer.

The Board of Education agreed to let Brookes leave school and granted him a work permit.

Ulbricht Hints Of Allied Ban

BERLIN (AP) — Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's Communist chief, accused members of the Western military forces stationed in West Berlin of being currency swindlers and hinted Wednesday that he might stop them from free access to the Communist sector.

He did not say when or how he would do it.

In a speech before East German's Parliament, Ulbricht also said members of the Western forces who travel in East Germany also engage in "speculative businesses."

He presumably meant members of the U.S., British and French military missions stationed in East Germany under an agreement with the Soviet army which has missions in West Germany.

Ulbricht in effect was saying that U.S., British and French military personnel are purchasing goods in East Berlin and East Germany with East marks bought in West Berlin at a cheaper rate.

Hospital Costs Doubled Since '53, Still Going Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Hospital costs are averaging more than twice as high as a decade ago and the rise in expense is expected to continue.

That was the word Wednesday from the American Hospital Association, which detailed the costs comparisons in Hospitals, its official journal.

The AHA said the average patient's daily expense rose from $18.25 to $36.83 in the last 10 years the total expense of an average stay in the hospital—slightly more than a week—rose from $148 to $279.

The figures are based on nonfederal short-term general hospitals which admit patients with all types of illnesses or injuries.

The costs are those met by the hospitals and in some cases slightly exceed the charges made to patients, the AHA said.

The report said steadily rising labor costs were the major cause of increased expenses. Some 1,762,957 persons were employed in short-term hospitals last year, 66,825 more than during the previous year.

For each 100 patients in a short-term general hospital, 237 employes were required.

"New services and equipment that didn't exist 10 years ago also have accounted for the rise," said Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, association director. "As hospitals become vastly more complex, they need more and more personnel to care for patients. It is expected expenses will continue to rise."

House Committee Votes To Trim Tax Deductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday nailed down its earlier tentative recommendation to trim federal income taxpayers' present deductions of state and local taxes.

The principal result, if this recommendation is enacted as part of President Kennedy's tax cut and revision program, would be that taxpayers who itemize their deductions on federal returns could no longer list state gasoline, cigarette and liquor taxes. State income, real estate and personal property and general sales taxes still would be deductible.

The Treasury estimates the change would increase revenues $500 million annually. This would be a partial offset, if something like the administration package is enacted, to the savings brought about by rate cuts.

The committee also affirmed its decision to limit the exclusion of sick pay from tax. At present, sick pay, up to $100 a week, is deductible after the first week. The proposal would extend the waiting period to 30 days.

This would result in an estimated $110 million annual revenue increase.

Also affirmed was a provision giving a tax break to persons over 65 who sell their homes by exempting the gain on the first $20,000 of sale.

BONN, Germany (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was reported to have assured West German leaders Wednesday the United States plans no reduction of its military effort in Europe in view of the limited test ban accord with Britain and the Soviet Union.

Informed sources said there was no discussion of possible American troop withdrawals from Europe in McNamara's talks with leading figures of the West German government.

McNamara's calls included Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who is to step down in the fall, and Adenauer's scheduled successor, Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard.

One of McNamara's main jobs was to discuss the agreement under which West Germany spends up to $70 million a year on military goods and services in the United States. This offsets the dollar outflow due to American military expenditures in Germany. The agreement is up for renewal.

Washington wishes West Germany to spend even more in the United States, to help stop the drain on the American gold reserve.

Hurley Will Be Buried Friday

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, statesman, cabinet member and New Mexico political figure, will be buried at Santa Fe's national cemetery Friday following Roman Catholic services.

Hurley was 80 when he died in his sleep Tuesday night.

Funeral Mass will be 10 a.m. Friday at the St. Francis Cathedral.

Cuba Executes Four

HAVANA (UPI)—The government radio Wednesday reported the pre-dawn execution of four anti-Castro Cubans alleged to be spies in the employ of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Illia Is Elected 29th Argentine President

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Dr. Arturo Illia, a 62-year-old country doctor turned politician, was elected the 29th president of Argentina Wednesday, according to unofficial tabulations.

Illia, the son of an Italian immigrant, held 189 electoral college votes with the voting complete in 18 of the country's 23 provinces and federal district.

In the remaining five voting districts he was assured of another 55 votes being cast for his election by his own party, the People's Radical Civic Union. This would give Illia 244 votes—5 more than needed for election.

In Argentina, the people vote for members of the electoral college and the college then votes for a president but the procedure is somewhat different from that of the electoral college system in the United States.

Playboy Still Unconscious From Drugs

Society Osteopath Acquitted On Three Other Vice Charges

LONDON (AP)—An Old Bailey jury convicted Dr. Stephen Ward on two vice charges Wednesday night while the aging playboy lay in a coma at a London hospital suffering from an overdose of drugs.

Ward was acquitted on three other vice charges. Sentencing was delayed until the 50-year-old society osteopath and artist is able to appear in court.

After 4½ hours of deliberation, the jury of 11 men and one woman pronounced Ward guilty on two counts of living on the immoral earnings of prostitutes. The maximum sentence on each count is seven years in prison.

Ward's legal team immediately announced that he would appeal.

The prosecution said it would bring another, unspecified charge against him at the next court session, which opens Sept. 10.

Doctors slowly gained ground in their battle to keep Ward alive.

He was found unconscious Wednesday morning a short time before he was to appear in court. Justice Sir Archie Marshall sent the case to the jury, but once the verdict was in he halted further proceedings.

Specifically, Ward, 50, was convicted of living on the sex-for-sale activities of Miss Keeler, 21, and blonde Mandy Rice-Davies, 18.

The jury had wrestled with the legal complexities of a case described as one of the most publicized and sordid in recent British history.

Simultaneously, white-gowned doctors at St. Stephen's Hospital seemed to be gaining in their struggle to keep Ward alive. Hospital officials said they did not know what drug Ward had taken.

Papers Avoid Suicide Angle

While ordering the trial to continue, the judge remarked that Ward's absence "is the result of his action by his own hand."

There was no doubt that Ward was suffering from an overdose of drugs, but British newspapers and the hospital itself carefully avoided saying that Ward had tried suicide.

Under British law a suicide attempt can be determined in only one way — by a court decision based on testimony.

Ward was found unconscious by his friend and host, Noel Howard Jones, on a living room sofa.

Jones told newsmen Ward left 12 letters — six addressed to friends — to be mailed if the jury convicted him of the vice charges. Jones emphasized that these letters were not suicide notes and said he had passed them on to a member of Ward's legal team.

Vote Suit Filed In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — The federal government filed the largest voter discrimination suit in history Wednesday, demanding the immediate registration of 2,032 Negroes in the Birmingham area.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the action was brought because he could not get a guarantee from local officials that all citizens would be permitted to vote without regard to race.

Named as defendants in the 72-page suit, which was first announced in Washington, were George Bellsnyder, chairman of the Jefferson (Birmingham) County board of registrars, and members Richard M. Harris and J. M. Farris.

Portugal Arms Curb Voted 8-0 By U.N. Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —The Security Council, by an 8-0 vote, Wednesday requested all countries to impose a partial arms embargo on Portugal and called upon the Portuguese government to grant self-determination and independence to its African territories.

The United States, Britain and France, three of Portugal's four NATO allies on the council, abstained from voting on the resolution which had been watered down from the original version submitted by the African powers through resolutions submitted by Venezuela.

Portuguese Foreign Minister Alberto Franco Nogueira called it a "most revolting resolution."

The council wound up a 10-day debate on Portuguese overseas territories and plunged Wednesday afternoon into consideration of South Africa's apartheid, or racial separation, policy, the parallel complaint brought here at the instigation of the recent African summit conference at Addis Ababa.

Boy Must Pay Stiff Penalty

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A juvenile court judge Wednesday ordered a 16-year-old boy to quit high school and go to work to help support the family of a man he ran down with an auto.

Arthur J. Brookes Jr., will start immediately as a hod carrier for a bricklaying firm and turn half of his weekly paycheck over to Steven M. Breitenbach, 41, until Brookes reaches 21. He will earn $2 an hour.

Breitenbach, who has three children, was struck July 17 as he watered his lawn. He lost his right foot and suffered head and body injuries in the accident. He is a printer.

The Board of Education agreed to let Brookes leave school and granted him a work permit.

Ulbricht Hints Of Allied Ban

BERLIN (AP) — Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's Communist chief, accused members of the Western military forces stationed in West Berlin of being currency swindlers and hinted Wednesday that he might stop them from free access to the Communist sector.

He did not say when or how he would do it.

In a speech before East German's Parliament, Ulbricht also said members of the Western forces who travel in East Germany also engage in "speculative businesses."

He presumably meant members of the U.S., British and French military missions stationed in East Germany under an agreement with the Soviet army which has missions in West Germany.

Ulbricht in effect was saying that U.S., British and French military personnel are purchasing goods in East Berlin and East Germany with East marks bought in West Berlin at a cheaper rate.

Hospital Costs Doubled Since '53, Still Going Up

CHICAGO (AP)—Hospital costs are averaging more than twice as high as a decade ago and the rise in expense is expected to continue.

That was the word Wednesday from the American Hospital Association, which detailed the costs comparisons in Hospitals, its official journal.

The AHA said the average patient's daily expense rose from $18.25 to $36.83 in the last 10 years the total expense of an average stay in the hospital—slightly more than a week—rose from $148 to $279.

The figures are based on non-federal short-term general hospitals which admit patients with all types of illnesses or injuries.

The costs are those met by the hospitals and in some cases slightly exceed the charges made to patients, the AHA said.

The report said steadily rising labor costs were the major cause of increased expenses. Some 1,762,957 persons were employed in short-term hospitals last year, 66,825 more than during the previous year.

For each 100 patients in a short-term general hospital, 237 employes were required.

"New services and equipment that didn't exist 10 years ago also have accounted for the rise," said Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, association director. "As hospitals become vastly more complex, they need more and more personnel to care for patients. It is expected expenses will continue to rise."

Film Stars Will Join Capital Rights March

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actors Charlton Heston, Marlon Brando, Tony Curtis, Mel Ferrer, Tony Franciosa, Peter Brown and Burt Lancaster and director Billy Wilder said Wednesday they will march on the nation's capital next month in support of pending civil rights legislation.

The delegation, which met at Heston's home Tuesday night to map plans for the march, said in a statement they would march on Washington, D. C. Aug. 28 "to express our support for the civil rights legislation now before Congress."

House Committee Votes To Trim Tax Deductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday nailed down its earlier tentative recommendation to trim federal income taxpayers' present deductions of state and local taxes.

The principal result, if this recommendation is enacted as part of President Kennedy's tax cut and revision program, would be that taxpayers who itemize their deductions on federal returns could no longer list state gasoline, cigarette and liquor taxes. State income, real estate and personal property and general sales taxes still would be deductible.

The Treasury estimates the change would increase revenues $500 million annually. This would be a partial offset, if something like the administration package is enacted, to the savings brought about by rate cuts.

The committee also affirmed its decision to limit the exclusion of sick pay from tax. At present, sick pay, up to $100 a week, is deductible after the first week. The proposal would extend the waiting period to 30 days.

This would result in an estimated $110 million annual revenue increase.

Also affirmed was a provision giving a tax break to persons over 65 who sell their homes by exempting the gain on the first $20,000 of sale.

Ike Heads For Europe 'Nostalgic Adventure'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Dwight Eisenhower sailed for Europe and an "adventure into nostalgia" Wednesday with his wife Mamie.

"I plan to walk up and down the Normandy beaches and visit Portsmouth, England," he said.

The conference room where the D-Day decision was reached was located in Portsmouth.

The one-week visit to Europe is to make a television documentary film (CBS-TV) recalling his memories of the invasion of Europe.

"I Just Set," Newly-Hired Negro Rail Fireman Says

EDITOR'S NOTE — The Southern Railway recently hired as locomotive firemen 100 elderly unemployed Negroes who never before worked on a railroad. They are manning the 8,000-mile line's freight and yard diesel locomotives. The Southern, which is not involved in the railroad dispute over alleged featherbedding, contends its only obligation to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen is to retain firemen on its passenger trains and to continue to list firemen on seniority rolls. To learn what the newly hired firemen do and what they earn, Chicago's American telephoned one of them in Atlanta. Following are excerpts of the newspaper's story written by Bob Smith.

CHICAGO (AP)—Willie Glass is unique among the 100 elderly Negroes serving as firemen for the Southern Railway. He already has been hired, fired and rehired in the last two weeks.

His duties in the cab of an Atlanta yard engine, however, are the same as those of his aged contemporaries.

"I don't do nothin'," he says. "I just set."

For eight hours a day, six days a week, Willie Glass, who was 60 on May 7, sits in the fireman's seat of a diesel locomotive which has no coal, no shovel, no firebox, and, according to road officials, no need for a fireman.

Occasionally there's a little overtime, too—4½ hours during his first two weeks on the job, which boosted his paycheck for 12 days to $197.97.

That's considerably more than the "70-some dollars" he made weekly during his 10 years as an Atlanta city employe, the last job he held.

"I was a city sanitary foreman," he says. "I was totin' garbage."

As a railroad fireman, Willie says he has banker's hours—9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Of course he gets time off for lunch.

As with all the new men, a supervisor went along with Willie on his first run—merely to show him where to sit and the location of the comfort station. From then he was on his own.

"I haven't had any troubles or problems," Willie says. "Everybody has been nice to me."

Occasionally Willie leaves his seat, but it's only to stretch his legs. He still watches switching and shunting operations with some interest, but it's getting to be old stuff to him now, especially since he really isn't an integral part of any of it.

Railroad officials contend that his presence in the cab isn't a safety factor either, since freight and yard engines generally contain two other men anyway, the engineer and the head-end brakeman.

Marylander's Body Is Found In Auto Trunk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The body of Edward H. Etchison, 33, of Frederick, Md., was found slumped in the open trunk of his automobile in Northwest Washington Wednesday with a bullet in the chest.

Richard L. Welton, District of Columbia coroner, withheld a formal ruling on Etchison's death pending a ballistics test.

The body of Etchison, an undertaker in Frederick, was discovered lying in the open trunk of his 1963 model car on West Beach Drive, N.W., by an employe of the D.C. Water Department.

Police said witnesses reported the car had been heading south on West Beach drive when it crossed the road and struck a utility pole at Sudbury Lane. One witness heard the crash and saw a man walk to the rear of the auto. Two other witnesses reported hearing a shot.

Police said Etchison was married and the father of a 6-year-old daughter.

Police Capt. George Donohue of the homicide squad said Etchison had been involved in several recent auto accidents and his driver's permit was on the point of being suspended. Police said $628 in cash was found in Etchison's pockets.

Ex-Mental Patient Held In "Senseless" Slaying

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—A former mental patient was charged Wednesday with the apparently senseless slaying of a Navy mapmaker Tuesday night.

Shot as he stood in the front of his home was Theodore R. Hoffman, 48.

Charged with murder was Alexis G. Madden, 44, a native of Youngstown, Ohio, who gave several local addresses as his present residence.

Later in the day Judge Ken McFarlane Smith of Arlington County Court ordered Madden committed to Virginia's Southwestern State Hospital for the Criminally Insane for 45 days of observation.

The commitment was made on motion of Commonwealth's Atty. William J. Hassan, who told the court that Madden is a sociopathic personality who becomes violent under drink.

The shooting, police said, occurred after Madden had spent 12 hours drinking and driving around in a taxi.

The taxi driver, who was instrumental in bringing about Madden's arrest, was Erik L. Sundquist, 21-year-old son of James L. Sundquist, deputy undersecretary of agriculture. The youth, a Harvard student, is driving a cab as a summer job.

Hassan told the court that Madden had twice been committed to mental hospitals while he was in the Army in 1945 and was committed again in 1960 after threatening his father, wife and sister. Last March he was arrested in nearby Washington and charged with carrying a dangerous weapon.

Witnesses told police the shooting occurred after Madden arrived in a cab at about 9 p.m., staggered across Hoffman's front lawn, waved a 45-caliber pistol over his head and headed for a neighboring house.

Mrs. Mary Sena, Hoffman's mother-in-law, said Madden fired one shot in the air and then poked the pistol into Hoffman's stomach and pulled the trigger. Hoffman collapsed into the bushes beside his front porch.

Syncom Transmits Between U.S., Africa

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The new Syncom-2 satellite transmitted its first voice and teletype communications Wednesday between the United States and Africa.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said the transmission via the satellite launched last week was made early this morning. It said the quality was excellent considering the low elevation of the satellite at the time. The signals were sent from a ship at Lagos Harbor, Nigeria, to ground terminals at Lakehurst and Ft. Dix, N.J.

Holes In Twins' Hearts Plugged

BALTIMORE (AP)—Six-year-old identical twins, Daphne and Delphine Green, will be able to lead normal lives now after doctors performed identical operations on their hearts.

The twins had been born with holes the size of dimes in the walls of the lower chambers of their hearts.

Because of the holes, the twins had been short of breath, excessively tired and were not expected to reach their teens.

Dr. R. Adams Cowley, professor of thoracic and cardio-vascular surgery at University Hospital, said that because of the holes in the girls' hearts, blood went through the lungs again and again rather than going to the other heart chamber to be circulated through the body.

Last week, a team of heart surgeon at University Hospital performed a seven-hour operation on each of the twins and closed the holes.

The girls' hearts were stopped for about 80 minutes while the actual surgery was performed.

A week after the surgery, the twins are able to walk around. They are expected to be able to go home next week and then attend school next September.

Transformer Blast Injures 4

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four United Airlines workmen were injured Wednesday when a transformer exploded at Hanger No. 5 at the Washington National Airport.

Three of the injured were taken to George Washington Hospital in Washington and the fourth to a hospital in nearby Alexandria, Va.

United identified the victims as Alfred M. Jones, the foreman, Springfield, Va.; Roy Houser, 51, Vienna, Va.; Oscar A. Miller, 51, Alexandria, and Patrick L. Trice, 51, Annandale, Va.

The explosion occurred when the men were repairing a 2,300-volt transformer which supplies power for all the machinery in the hangar. Damage was confined to the small room in which the transformer was located.

16 Named In Barber License Fraud Case

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Grand Jury filed 65 charges against 16 persons Wednesday in connection with alleged improper traffic of state barber licenses.

Vincent A. Cinquegrani, 72, president of the Maryland State Board of Barber Examiners, was named in 21 of the charges filed with Judge Joseph L. Carter. He was accused on eight counts of bribery, 12 of conspiracy and one of malfeasance.

Cinquegrani's name was released when his attorney agreed to have bail of $7,500 posted. Names of the other 15 defendants were withheld temporarily under court rules.

Thirteen of the other 15 defendants were described as barbers, either in Maryland or other states.

New Tremors Shake Shattered Skopje

SKOPJE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — Fourteen new tremors hit earthquake-shattered Skopje Tuesday night and Wednesday as demolition teams completed nature's destruction of unsalvageable buildings.

No new damage was caused by the tremors, although one reached 5 on the Mercali scales at the Skopje Seismological Observatory. More than 100 tremors have been recorded since 90 per cent of the Macedonian capital was razed Friday.

Rescuers found a survivor in rubble Tuesday night, sparking a one-last-try search effort by French army experts using sonar gear so delicate it can detect a heartbeat or heavy breathing beneath tons of rubble.

Ocean City Curfew Voted

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP)—Teenagers will have to be off the streets by midnight over the Labor Day weekend here.

The City Council voted to impose the midnight to 6 a.m. curfew because of the unusually large number of teenagers in the town.

The curfew which applies to all persons under 21, will run from Saturday, August 31, to Tuesday, Sept. 3.

In the past three years, police have imposed a spot curfew to control the mobs, but this was declared to be unconstitutional.

The city was advised that any curfew must be announced and advertised beforehand.

The ordinance provides that anyone under age caught on the streets or beaches after midnight is subject to fines ranging from $10 to $100 or 30 days in jail.

To Shift Operations

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Co. said it has decided to transfer its Fall River, Mass., manufacturing operations to Philadelphia. The Fall River plant makes instruments and employs 250.

Special Meeting Called

A special meeting of the reunion committee of Fort Hill High School class of 1958 will be held tonight at 7:30. It will be at the home of Mrs. Doris Robinette, 1311 Michigan Avenue, to work on the scrapbook. Mrs. Sandra George King is chairman.

A humorous reading will feature the program at the fifth anniversary reunion of the class, which will be held in the form of a dinner-dance August 24. The reading will include a glimpse of the class members as they were in school; during the past two years; and looking into the future. Mrs. Marcella Adams Hardinger is chairman of compiling the biographies.

The program also will include awarding of gifts for the one coming the greatest distance, having the oldest child, youngest child, most children, least changed and most changed.

Invitations have been extended to Victor D. Heisey, former principal; Miss Jean Bowen, Carl Ritchie, John Reed, class advisors; Mrs. Kitty Pafel Wilson, school secretary; Bob Cavanaugh and William P. Hahn, coaches.

Being held at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club, the reunion will begin with a get-acquainted hour at 6:30. Following the dinner, there will be dancing to the music of John Ritchie's orchestra.

Bowhunters Entertain At Dinner

The Cumberland Bowhunters, local archery club, entertained participating archers of the indoor league with a banquet recently at Nave's Dining Room. Following the banquet, Clyde Nazelrod, league chairman, presented winners of the event medals and bars for team awards and individual shooting awards.

Top team for the season was the Bucks, with team awards going to Gene DeHaven, team captain; Janet Stevens, Mitzi DeMoss and Audrey Nazelrod.

Individual shooting award was presented William Burkey, who took top honor with a total high average for the year without handicap with a 228. He also won a 20-pin earned by shooting five consecutive perfect targets. Gene DeHaven won the award for high average with handicap with a 272 while Paul Nazelrod won for his high game of the season without handicap with a 246 and Mitzi DeMoss took high game of the year with handicap with a 322.

Perfect attendance pins were presented Gene DeHaven, Janet Stevens, Bernard Wenrick, Paul Nazelrod and Clyde Nazelrod.

Family Honors John Kirk

A family reunion was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kirk, Bowling Green, in honor of the former's father, John Kirk, Barton, on his 75th birthday.

A dinner was served and 62 members of the family were present, including seven children, 19 grandchildren, and 22 great-grandchildren of the honored guests.

Gold and white were prominent colors in the decorating scheme. Games were played and songs were sung. A money tree was presented to Mr. Kirk as a gift.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Kirk, Barton; Mr. and Mrs. Russel Kirk and children, Gene, Cathy and Cheryl, Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk and daughter, Pattie Lori, Akron, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Nettie Wright and daughter, Darlene, Damascus; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lupinacci and son, Louis, Miami, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Green and children, Joan, Jack, Ronnie, Janice, Christa, and Beverly, Barton; Mr. and Mrs. David Kirk; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kirk and sons, Robert and Steven; Mr. and Mrs. William Kirk and children, Desiree, Stephena, and Will; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green and children, Karen, Scott, and Diana, Barton; Mr. and Mrs. David Hobel and children, Rhonda Kay and David, Barton; Robert Kirk, Cumberland; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Francis and children, Keith, Diana, Fred and Marie; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Green and daughters, Debbie and Joyce, Barton; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Green and daughters, Terri Lynn and Robin, Westernport; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jodge and children, Laura Ann, Kenny, Pat and Susan, Akron, Ohio; and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bryan and daughters, Denise and Valeree, Damascus.

Auxiliary To Help LaVale Festival

The Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Volunteer Firemen will assist the firemen with the outdoor festival to be held August 5-10, on the lot next to the fire hall.

The auxiliary will have charge of refreshments, a fancy work booth, and bake sale. Donations will be accepted at the fire hall. The festival also includes rides and games.

A rummage sale will be held by the auxiliary August 16. It will be in the basement of Zion United Church of Christ, North Mechanic Street, beginning at 10 a.m. The next regular meeting will be held August 23.

FREE MONEY — Working like picnic ants, children are shown scrambling and burrowing into a pile of hay for the treasure hunt during Fergus Falls, Minnesota's trade festival, put on by businessmen. Nickels, dimes and quarters mixed up in the fodder provided incentive for the mass attack Tuesday. The event drew full approval of the children, most of whom came up with a little spending money. The Ladies Auxiliary of the LaVale Volunteer Firemen will assist the firemen with the outdoor festival to be held August 5-10, on the lot next to the fire hall.

The auxiliary will have charge of refreshments, a fancy work booth, and bake sale. Donations will be accepted at the fire hall. The festival also includes rides and games.

A rummage sale will be held by the auxiliary August 16. It will be in the basement of Zion United Church of Christ, North Mechanic Street, beginning at 10 a.m. The next regular meeting will be held August 23.

FREE MONEY — Working like picnic ants, children are shown scrambling and burrowing into a pile of hay for the treasure hunt during Fergus Falls, Minnesota's trade festival, put on by businessmen. Nickels, dimes and quarters mixed up in the fodder provided incentive for the mass attack Tuesday. The event drew full approval of the children, most of whom came up with a little spending money. Baltimore Contends Act Can't Be Used To Enforce Segregation

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland's trespass act cannot legally be used to enforce racial segregation in places of public accommodation, City Solicitor Joseph Allen contended Wednesday.

In a brief prepared for the State Court of Appeals, the Baltimore solicitor said such use of a state criminal act would violate the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution. The amendment prohibits any state from denying any person equal protection of the laws.

Allen's brief was filed in an appeal from a Baltimore Superior Court ruling that the city's public accommodations law conflicts with the Maryland trespass and therefore is invalid. Judge Edwin Harlan handed down the ruling last January.

"The state trespass law has not been applicable to Baltimore since the (1961) passage of the Municipal Court Act," said the city brief.

It said the Legislature, in setting up the Municipal Court system and specifying its jurisdiction, made trespass a crime in Baltimore City under the Municipal Court Act rather than under the state trespass act.

Therefore, trespassing in the city is a violation of a public local law, subject to amendment by the city council, rather than a public general law over which the city has no control, Allen said.

He added that trespass provisions of the Municipal Court Act also could not legally be used to enforce racial segregation in privately owned places of public accommodation because of an ordinance enacted by the council last year and in effect since last June 1. That ordinance prohibits racial discrimination in Baltimore restaurants and hotels.

Home Team Spared

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — A discriminating thief stole about $84 in valuables and money from police visiting Salisbury to play the local police team a soccer match. The valuables were taken from a locker room shared by the two teams. Property of the local officers, however, was untouched.

Public Hearing Planned On Assateague Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Millard Tawes of Maryland said Wednesday a public hearing on a proposal to develop Assateague Island as a national seashore park will be held in Baltimore within the next two weeks.

Tawes told reporters after a luncheon session with the Maryland delegation in Congress that the date will be set Thursday by the Maryland Board of Public Works. This board is composed of Tawes, the state comptroller general, Louis H. Goldstein, and the state treasurer, John H. Leutkemeyer.

Goldstein has come out publicly in favor of the federal development of the island as proposed by the interior department.

The governor said today's luncheon session at the capitol was "an exploratory meeting" with no decisions by either state or federal officials.

He said the meeting was arranged by Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., and Rep. George H. Fallon, D-Md., neither of whom has taken a public stand on the future of the island.

Beall told reporters that after the Board of Public Works acts on the Assateague proposal, state officials will then return "to us to sponsor legislation" authorizing it.

Tawes said the board will act quickly after the public meeting.

The state officials said there are 5,200 privately owned lots on the island with 3,200 owners. Russell H. McCain, aide to the governor, said there have been only scattered letters to the governor recently about the proposal and none objecting to it.

Tawes said he couldn't express a personal opinion on the proposal to develop Assateague as a public park.

"It would be unfair to express a personal opinion until after the public hearing," he said.

Public Hearing Planned On Assateague Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Millard Tawes of Maryland said Wednesday a public hearing on a proposal to develop Assateague Island as a national seashore park will be held in Baltimore within the next two weeks.

Tawes told reporters after a luncheon session with the Maryland delegation in Congress that the date will be set Thursday by the Maryland Board of Public Works. This board is composed of Tawes, the state comptroller general, Louis H. Goldstein, and the state treasurer, John H. Leutkemeyer.

Goldstein has come out publicly in favor of the federal development of the island as proposed by the interior department.

The governor said today's luncheon session at the capitol was "an exploratory meeting" with no decisions by either state or federal officials.

He said the meeting was arranged by Sen. J. Glenn Beall, R-Md., and Rep. George H. Fallon, D-Md., neither of whom has taken a public stand on the future of the island.

Beall told reporters that after the Board of Public Works acts on the Assateague proposal, state officials will then return "to us to sponsor legislation" authorizing it.

Tawes said the board will act quickly after the public meeting.

The state officials said there are 5,200 privately owned lots on the island with 3,200 owners. Russell H. McCain, aide to the governor, said there have been only scattered letters to the governor recently about the proposal and none objecting to it.

Tawes said he couldn't express a personal opinion on the proposal to develop Assateague as a public park.

"It would be unfair to express a personal opinion until after the public hearing," he said.

Film Writer Hopes To Produce On-Location Movie About Soviet Union

By DAVID J. OESTRIECHER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Abby Mann, a writer whose screenplay "Judgment at Nuremberg" won an Academy Award, wants to produce a movie about Russia on location in the Soviet Union.

Mann is convinced that Americans do not know much about misconceptions about the country Russia and Russians. "I'd like to try and its people.

make a movie that would tell the story of modern-day Russians in terms of their problems so that they could be easily understood.

"I do not presume to be an expert on Russia on the basis of my two-weeks there," Mann said. "But I do know that Americans, including myself, have a myriad plenty of food and the people are well-dressed. If there is any one problem that stands out in my

"I thought Russians would be grumbling about their lot in life. They weren't. They were happy, good-natured and convinced that things were good and getting better.

"I'm not saying that everything is perfect in Moscow. But there is no unemployment, no slums in Moscow. They were pretty bad," Mann said.

Mann was surprised by the reception to a speech he made to a Film Festival audience of about 800 persons, including 25 Russians.

He was sure that the Russians would object to the speech.

"Instead, the audience cheered and applauded so loudly that I thought there was a thunderstorm."

Mann said he saw 15 Russian movies while he was in Moscow. "Most of them were pretty bad," he said. "They stick to a party line, the scripts are rather soapy and the characters are faceless."

Mann said there was one exception to this—a movie called "Nine Days of One Year."

"This was a good movie," he said. "It told the story of an atomic scientist injured by radiation and made a point for the futility of nuclear weapon testing. It was frank and honest."

Russian film writers and producers want to make more movies like it, Mann said, but all scripts have to be approved by the government before they go into production. "They want to make movies that capture Russian life as it really is. So far, they haven't had much success."

Ground Broken

FREMONT, Mich. (UPI)—Gerber Products Co., said Tuesday it has broken ground at Three Oaks, Mich., for a half - million dollar plant to make plastic baby pants and bibs. Gerber also said it will build an addition to its baby food plant at Asheville, N. C.

Put Downtown Schools In Skyscrapers And Save, Big Cities Advised

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's foolish for big cities to keep buying fantastically expensive downtown real estate and putting only a school on it, in the opinion of a veteran school architect.

Michael Radoslovich, former chief architect of the New York City Board of Education, thinks it is equally foolish to build a typically suburban low - type school in a crowded urban area.

It would be wiser to incorporate a school into a large skyscraper or an apartment building, he thinks.

New York's schools, Radoslovich believes, are shabby, depressing structures that are costing the city a mint of money. Some are seriously under-occupied because the inner-city population was dwindled by the trend to the suburbs, he said.

"Even those that are fully used are wasteful eyesores that no longer are in tune with the life of the city. The little red school house suited its rural setting and its rural pupils. The anachronistic Manhattan school suits neither the modern city skyline nor modern city boys and girls," said Radoslovich, now a member of Emery Roth & Sons, designer of skyscrapers.

Radoslovich said Chicago and one or two other of our largest cities have the same problem as New York and other very large cities must start putting the downtown schools in skyscrapers and large apartment house buildings. The school part of the building must have separate entrances and be designed from the start for school use.

"Re-modelling parts of existing buildings for school use won't be practical," Radoslovich said.

Radoslovich had the New York school board on the verge of putting a new business high school in the first six stories of a new 38-story skyscraper before he retired from the school system, but the city failed to land the site.

The present business high school sitting between two skyscrapers on East 42nd Street in the Grand Central district is Radoslovich's idea of the most horrible example of waste of expensive land in the country.

Twenty-one hundred boys and girls go to day school and 900 to night school in this high school. They come from many sections of the city and most of them have part or full time office jobs in nearby skyscrapers.

Radoslovich said the sensible thing would be for the city to sell this site and put up a new school in a skyscraper nearby with commercial space to be rented out.

Film Writer Hopes To Produce On-Location Movie About Soviet Union

By DAVID J. OESTRIECHER

NEW YORK (UPI) — Abby Mann, a writer whose screenplay for "Judgment at Nuremberg" won an Academy Award, wants to produce a movie about Russia on the basis of today—on location in the Soviet Union.

Mann is convinced that Americans do not know much about misconceptions about the country Russia and Russians. "I'd like to try and its people.

make a movie that would tell the story of modern-day Russians in terms of their problems so that they could be easily understood.

"I do not presume to be an expert on Russia on the basis of my two-weeks there," Mann said. "But I do know that Americans, including myself, have a myriad of misconceptions about the country and its people.

"I thought Russians would be grumbling about their lot in life. They weren't. They were happy, good-natured and convinced that things were good and getting better.

"I'm not saying that everything is perfect in Moscow. But there is plenty of food and the people are well-dressed. If there is any one problem that stands out in my mind it is the lack of housing.

Action Of Nurse Aided Police In City Arrest

A 21-year-old senior nursing student has stepped into a heroine's role at the Memorial Hospital Nurses Home and the City Police Department is in line for praise because of its quick action in the arrest of Marvin D. Robaire, 20, a former Cumberland resident and one-time mental patient who has admitted murdering a California woman.

The calm, thoughtful actions of Janet Lohr, of New Paris, Pa., a nursing student, when she was awakened by noises in the early hours of last Friday morning led to the arrest of Robaire and prevented his entry of the nurses home and possible tragedy.

Miss Lohr, whose bed is located just under the window Robaire tried to enter, retained her composure upon being awakened and peered over the window ledge to see the figure of a man outside in the dark.

She rolled off the edge of the bed, crawled on her hands and knees across the floor, through the adjoining suite, and into the hallway. Carefully closing the door and thoughtfully not turning lights on, Miss Lohr then told the night supervisor, Mrs. Hilda Dean, of a man trying to get into her room. Mrs. Dean immediately notified the hospital, the City Police, and Mrs. Thelma Uhl, house mother.

Police were at the scene in "no more than five minutes," Miss Uhl said, and caught Robaire in the act.

She praised the actions of Miss Lohr and said if she had become excited and screamed or even turned the lights on, Robaire might still be at large.

Officer Harold Gibson made the arrest. In Robaire's possession were a hatchet, a knife and a piece of rope.

Robaire, who formerly was a mental patient at Patuxent Institute, has admitted bludgeoning Mrs. Marjorie Newton, 43, a businesswoman who was murdered in a Buena Park, Calif., motel when she surprised him while he was burglarizing her room.

Local authorities are of the opinion that Robaire's reactions could have been similar here if he had actually entered the room and had been surprised.

Coincidentally, an FBI bulletin on Robaire was received in Cumberland only the night before his arrest by City Police. He had left California shortly after the California woman was murdered.

The Roman Colosseum is used to have accommodated 100 thousand spectators of whom about 87 thousand were seated.

Frostburg Woman Hurt In Accident

A Frostburg woman was injured Monday night on U.S. Route 40 when she swerved her car to avoid an oncoming car which skidded into her lane of traffic.

Mrs. Alletta Engle, 48, of 17 West Main Street, was headed eastbound on Negro Mountain when the westbound car skidded into her lane of traffic. She swerved her car to the left to avoid the vehicle and struck the guard rails.

She suffered severe scalp lacerations and a severe bruise on her right arm. Mrs. Engle was admitted to Miners Hospital in Frostburg.

Comedy Opens At Jennerstown

"Take Her, She's Mine," a comedy, opened Monday night at the Mountain Playhouse at Stoughton Lakes, Jennerstown, Pa.

The next production of the 25th season at Jennerstown will be "Charley's Aunt," which may be seen August 5-10.

No Conflict Likely In City Subdivisions

Action on a proposal to regulate subdivisions within the jurisdiction of the city is expected to be taken Monday, and a city official yesterday stated no conflict is anticipated wtih similar regulations already adopted by the county and effective September 15.

Some doubt on the wording of the proposed subdivision regulations, accepted by the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission, but it was authoritatively stated that under Maryland law a municipality has jurisdiction in subdivision regulations for a mile beyond its limits.

The law, it was explained, was determined by an act of Legislature, and defined by a ruling of Attorney General Thomas B. Finan. Therefore, there can be no conflict with county regulations.

A corrected draft of the plan was prepared yesterday by John R. Joyner, a member of the firm of Stein and Marcou Associates, and presented to city officials.

James A. Avirett, vice chairman, asked to be recorded as recommending that the word's "by the subdivider," be deleted from the section citing city policy providing a number of services.

As a result of the county action the commission deleted a number of items which would have applied only in case the city chose to exercise extra-territorial control within a mile of the city limits.

It was pointed out that the city has the right to exercise such control without a statement of interest.

The commission passed on to a discussion on proposed zoning regulations after recommending the adoption of the subdivision plan.

Action Of Nurse Aided Police In City Arrest

A 21-year-old senior nursing student has stepped into a heroine's role at the Memorial Hospital Nurses Home and the City Police Department is in line for praise because of its quick action in the arrest of Marvin D. Robaire, 20, a former Cumberland resident and one-time mental patient who has admitted murdering a California woman.

The calm, thoughtful actions of Janet Lohr, of New Paris, Pa., a nursing student, when she was awakened by noises in the early hours of last Friday morning led to the arrest of Robaire and prevented his entry of the nurses home and possible tragedy.

Miss Lohr, whose bed is located just under the window Robaire tried to enter, retained her composure upon being awakened and peered over the window ledge to see the figure of a man outside in the dark.

She rolled off the edge of the bed, crawled on her hands and knees across the floor, through the adjoining suite, and into the hallway. Carefully closing the door and thoughtfully not turning lights on, Miss Lohr then told the night supervisor, Mrs. Hilda Dean, of a man trying to get into her room. Mrs. Dean immediately notified the hospital, the City Police, and Mrs. Thelma Uhl, house mother.

Police were at the scene in "no more than five minutes," Miss Uhl said, and caught Robaire in the act.

She praised the actions of Miss Lohr and said if she had become excited and screamed or even turned the lights on, Robaire might still be at large.

Officer Harold Gibson made the arrest. In Robaire's possession were a hatchet, a knife and a piece of rope.

Robaire, who formerly was a mental patient at Patuxent Institute, has admitted bludgeoning Mrs. Marjorie Newton, 43, a businesswoman who was murdered in a Buena Park, Calif., motel when she surprised him while he was burglarizing her room.

Local authorities are of the opinion that Robaire's reactions could have been similar here if he had actually entered the room and had been surprised.

Coincidentally, an FBI bulletin on Robaire was received in Cumberland only the night before his arrest by City Police. He had left California shortly after the California woman was murdered.

The Roman Colosseum is used to have accommodated 100 thousand spectators of whom about 87 thousand were seated.

Frostburg Woman Hurt In Accident

A Frostburg woman was injured Monday night on U.S. Route 40 when she swerved her car to avoid an oncoming car which skidded into her lane of traffic.

Mrs. Alletta Engle, 48, of 17 West Main Street, was headed eastbound on Negro Mountain when the westbound car skidded into her lane of traffic. She swerved her car to the left to avoid the vehicle and struck the guard rails.

She suffered severe scalp lacerations and a severe bruise on her right arm. Mrs. Engle was admitted to Miners Hospital in Frostburg.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Today is the saddest day of my life. I'm amazed that I can sit down and write a letter after what I've been through, but perhaps it will be good therapy.

This morning we buried my three-year-old niece. Betsy was a beautiful, bright-eyed darling with golden curls. Last week when we saw her at a family picnic she was full of fun and laughter. Everyone adored her.

Today Betsy is dead because her mother left a bottle of pills in the medicine cabinet. The little girl, thinking the pills were candy, ate every last one of them. My sister-in-law found Betsy lying unconscious on the floor and rushed her to the hospital but it was to late.

It is heartbreaking to lose a child through illness, but to lose a child because of carelessness is too much to bear. Please print this letter for other mothers to read. It may save some precious young lives.

—AUNT MAE

DEAR AUNT MAE: It is baffling that some mothers will carry a sweater to school when the weather unexpectedly turns cold yet these same mothers will leave cleaning fluid in pop bottles, pills that look like candy on bathroom cabinet shelves and loaded guns in closets.

Every mother who is reading these words should check shelves, drawers and closets for potential instruments of death. Remember that a large bottle of aspirin, if taken all at once, can kill a child. Remember, too, that children can climb on chairs and wash basins, and reach top shelves. The only safe place for medicines (and guns) is under lock and key.

Thank you for writing, Aunt Mae. It's good to be reminded of what we think we already know.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 17 and going with a boy 19 who works in a minor capacity for my father. My father never liked Alex but he never told me I couldn't go out with him.

Last night Alex came by to take me to a baseball game. I was shocked when I saw him. His hair, which was always slicked back, had a definite curl. You might say it was actually kinky. I asked him what he did to it and he said his sister gave him a permanent.

My folks discussed Alex's hair this morning. My dad gave me no orders but he did say, "I think that kid is nuts." Do you feel the hair job is reason enough to stop going with him?

—PIE FACE

DEAR FACE: The boy sounds so flakey that if you don't figure the hair job is reason enough to drop him just wait a few days. Curley-locks will do something else soon.

DEAR ANN: We have some close friends who accept every one of our invitations and half the time they wind up cancelling out at the last moment.

My husband says these people place a very low value on our friendship. He wants me to stop inviting them. I'm reluctant to take his advice because they are a dear couple and the woman, in particular, would give me the shirt off her back.

She is a rather frail person and was institutionalized after the birth of each of her two children. Do you think this may have something to do with the last minute cancellations?

—RESERVING JUDGMENT

DEAR RESERVING: Indeed I do. Some people accept invitations in good faith but when the time comes, they aren't up to going.

Don't count on this couple for a third and fourth at bridge, but do invite them to your larger parties and be compassionate when they don't make it.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with youh problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Monika Henreid, 20-year-old daughter of actor Paul Henreid, is making her motion picture debut in a film directed by her father.

Monika is starting her film career in traditional fashion. She's playing Bette Davis' maid in "Dead Ringer," being filmed at Warner Bros. studios.

Miss Henreid has appeared in three dramatic television episodes, done a video dance number and was in Hollywood Little Theater productions before going to work for her dad.

"I didn't ask father if I could be in the picture," she said in one of the studio offices. "It was Bette Davis who called him and said, 'Monika has to play Janet.' Father told me later, 'I really think she means it.' So here I am."

Miss Henreid, who sat with a puppy on her lap during the conversation, said she expects to learn more about the acting profession from Miss Davis, an Academy Award winner.

"In practically every scene in which I appear, I'm with Bette," she said. "And, experience being the best teacher, I'm certainly learning from her. It's also a challenge for me because I have to live up to what Bette thinks I can do."

During filming of the picture, Monika says her father treats her as he would any other actress.

"He wants to get from me, the actress, exactly what he wants in the role," she said. "I know him to be an excellent director and an excellent father. And while we're working, he keeps the two separated correctly. Occasionally when I manage to do something right, he smiles his approval."

Hollywood is a town that is filled with nepotism. Relatives of stars and executives often are given jobs or television and movie roles. Some job-seeking relations become parasites.

Miss Henreid was asked if she expected any criticism for working in a picture directed by her dad.

"There are people who figure that those who are related to somebody in the business use the easy way to get in, the name," she answered. "My father is very funny. He didn't give me the job. Bette Davis said, 'I want Monika to do the part.' She talked him into it.

"I'm one of those who firmly believe that you can't teach somebody how to act. You've got it or you haven't. And my father hs told me that this is a tough business. I've set little goals for myself and I figured if I could reach them then I'd have something going for me."

Miss Henreid is an attractive girl, but not the typical movieland glamour type. She's interested in the acting profession enough to study it and develop her talent. Her attitude is such that she'll no doubt be working in other films, with or without her dad.

Secrets Of Charm

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Nail-Biting

Worse than merely affecting her poise and looks, nail-biting can actually do lasting damage to a little girl's hands. It can result in permanently stubby fingers and nails.

To put a prevention plan into operation, first enlist the aid of someone outside the family who is highly admired by your small lass — a teacher, glamour teen or aunt. Prompt this confederate to give the child a really grown-up manicure kit and accompany it with card to this effect: "I hope you have fun with this kit and that using it will make your hands as lovely and as charming as they deserve to be."

An appeal to her pride? You bet, and it's just the sort of flattery a young girl strives to earn.

Meanwhile, bite your tongue if necessary to keep from ever saying, "Stop biting your nails." But do show your lass how to make the most of her gift. Make a game of giving her manicures, oil soak and all. You might also give her a charm bracelet — a dime store model is fine if it's one she'd like to show others. When she shows off her bracelet, her hands show off too and she'll be quicker to catch the implication than you might dream.

For greatest results, bear these points in mind:

1. When nail or cuticle is bitten to the quick, rub a mentholated jelly into the sore spots. This will feel so comforting the child will learn to dot it herself and thus become more nail conscious.

2. Since television watchers are notable nail biters, slather fingers in oil and encase them in tiny thimbles when the set's on. If you can get away with it, that is!

3. Jagged spots induce biting so keep them smooth with an emery.

4. Colorless polish prevents rough nail surfaces; appeals to young ladies, too!

5. Don't fail to give praise when it's due.

Your reward will be in your child's eventual progress. Hers will be in a lifetime of lovely hands.

Iran Rejects Charge

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — The Iranian government Tuesday announced it had rejected Soviet allegations that it was actively supporting the government of neighboring Iraq against rebel Kurdish tribesmen. The foreign office said the rejection was made in a note delivered Monday.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠

When West showed out on the first round of trumps in today's hand, the conclusion appeared inescapable that declarer must go down to defeat in his four heart contract. In addition to two trump tricks, he was off a spade and a diamond. South found a way to lump two of his losers together, however, and therein lies our story.

South doubled East's opening spade bid, and West took advantage of the favorable vulnerability to preempt some of his opponent's bidding room by jumping to three spades. Since his hand possessed little defensive merit, he hoped to make it more difficult for North and South to get together. His opponents were not to be denied, however, and, when North freely bid four clubs, South proceeded to four hearts.

The jack of spades was opened and the suit continued, as South ruffed the second round. When the ace of hearts was led and West discarded a spade, East was revealed to possess two trump tricks. The outlook appeared completely hopeless, but declarer played on in the hope that some favorable bit of distribution in the other suits might compensate him for the outlandish trump break.

A club was led to dummy's queen so that South could ruff another spade. He was now down to three trumps, the same number held by East. If the latter was compelled to follow suit as South cashed all of his side winners, then a favorable end position could be established.

The ace and king of diamonds were led, followed by two more rounds of clubs on which a diamond was thrown. Fortunately for the declarer, East answered the call on every lead. At this point, South had eight tricks in, and he now led North's remaining club. If East took a discard, declarer could trump with a small heart and cash the king for the fulfilling trick. If East ruffed with the nine of hearts, on the other hand, South could discard his last diamond and restrict his losses to two hearts and one spade.

Requests Made

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)— Gov. W. W. Barron has told Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman that farmers in six drought-hit counties of West Virginia should be allowed to withdraw some acreage from the soil conservation bank. Barron, at the request of the State Soil Conservation Committee, requested they use conservation acreage for hay and grazing. The counties are Berkeley, Jefferson, Morgan, Monroe, Greenbrier and Pendleton.

Make First Ascent

GRENOBLE, France (UPI)—A four-man team, including three Americans and one Scot, Monday made the first successful ascent of the treacherous south face of the "Fool's Needle" in the Mt. Blanc region of the Alps, it was reported Tuesday. The Americans were Gary Hemming, San Diego, Calif.; Tom Frost, Orange, Calif.; and John Harlin, now a physical education teacher in Switzerland.

Louisiana has some four thousand miles of navigable inland waterways.

Ship Identified

LONDON (UPI) — A wooden ship found in the mud of the Thames River in the heart of London last year has been identified as a Roman-made craft that may be more than 1,800 years old, it was reported Tuesday. Peter Mardsen of the Guildhall Museum said "it is one of the most complete Roman ships to have been excavated."

The term representative-at-large is applied to a representative in Congress selected by the voters of the entire state instead of by the voters of a specific district within a state.

15 Arrested In Pa. Gambling Raids

WASHINGTON, Pa. (UPI) — State police raided 14 establishments in Washington County Tuesday and arrested 15 persons on charges of maintaining gambling places and possessing illegal machines.

The proprietors of the establishments were arraigned before Alderman James Dalessandro. All posted bond pending a hearing Friday.

The police lineup was originated by Francois Eugene Vicocq, a French detective, early in the 19th century.

Bridge Bids Opening Set

Announcement was made yesterday by the State Roads Commission of bids being asked for the construction of one-half mile addition to the Industrial Boulevard and a 450-foot long bridge over the B&O Railroad tracks near the Wineow Street underpass to tie-in the sections of the boulevard.

Bids will be opened on the bridge and roadway August 27 in the Baltimore office of the SRC, according to John B. Funk, director-chairman of the commission.

The bridge will run from a point on Wineow Street where the old Community ballpark was located and run on a horizontal curve to a point opposite the Cumberland Macaroni Factory on Thomas Street.

The bridge will have two 34-foot dual lanes with a four-foot median strip. There will be a five-foot wide sidewalk for pedestrians. The structure will be of steel and have welded girders.

The new section of the Industrial Boulevard will run from Cresap and Thomas Street over the bridge to Williams Street.

Also planned is bidding on a section of the Cumberland Thruway from Willowbrook Road to Maryland Avenue. These bids will be requested in December, accord to Funk. This section of the Thruway will bring it to a point where it will tie -in with the elevated section of the Thruway across town. The route will follow generally the line alongside Central Avenue for some distance and will include a deep cut in the hillside.

The Cumberland Contracting Company is currently nearing completion of a section of the Industrial Boulevard from near the macaroni factory to Third Street intersection. This project is costing about $450,000.

New Run Listed By Trucking Firm

The local office of the Charlton Brothers Transportation Company today announced that starting August 26 the truck line will inaugurate a run every night from the New York area to Cumberland.

The run will be scheduled so that trucks will arrive here about 5 a.m. in time for unloading, separation and ready for early morning delivery.

Signs Indicate Park Direction

Signs pointing out the direction of Constitution Park have been installed by the Street Department.

The signs, on steel posts, are located at Park and Williams streets; Louisiana Avenue and Williams Street; and Williams Street and Reservoir Avenue, according to Street Superintendent Ray Valentine.

Men Plan Meeting

The Methodist Men of First Methodist Church will meet Saturday at 6:15 p.m. at the church. The speaker will be Rev. Frank L. Horton of McKendree Methodist Church.

Meter Receipts Up

Parking meter receipts the week of July 20 amounted to $867.75 compared to $822.25 the week of July 13, an increase of $45.50. Inspecter Harry Whisner reported to the Mayor and Council Monday.

Mary Ford Awarded Temporary Alimony

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —Singer Mary Ford was awarded $5,000 a month temporary alimony Tuesday pending trial of a separate maintenance suit filed against her husband, Les Paul.

During a hearing before Superior Judge William H. Rosenthal, Miss Ford testified that during the years she and Paul were a singing team they made from $250,000 to $500,000 a year. She said her husband has control of all the family assets, and had told her she wouldn't "get a cent."

Auxiliary Police Elect Whisner

Harry M. Whisner was elected to his fourth term as president of the Cumberland Auxiliary Police at a recent meeting at Canada Hose House, North Mechanic Street.

Chosen vice president was Ronald McDonald. James Stoops was named secretary, Sgt. John Newhouse, treasurer, and Leo Isner, trustee.

Whisner reported that the Auxiliary Police have purchased a tape recorder and public address system for their panel truck. The equipment will be made available upon request, he said, to local charitable and civic organizations at no charge.

Picnic Planned

An all-day Sunday school picnic will be held by Living Stone Church of the Brethren Saturday in Grove 4 at Constitution Park.

Drinks will be furnished for the noon meal and ice cream at the evening meal. A games period will begin at 1:30 p. m.

Members are submitting names for the newly organized senior youth class and a prize will be awarded to the one having his name accepted.

Annual Event Planned This Weekend By 'Hams'

Local and area amateur radio operators are expected to attend the 13th annual "Hamfest" of the Shenandoah Valley Amateur Radio Club this weekend at Winchester, Va.

Several hundred "hams" and their families and friends are expected. A dinner will open the event Saturday at 7 p. m. at the Lee-Jackson Restaurant and an all-day program beginning at 10 a. m. Sunday has been arranged.

Ivan H. Loucks, Point of Rocks, chief of the Amateur Licensing Bureau, Federal Communications Commission, will be principal speaker at the dinner.

Anyone with interest in amateur radio is welcome and attendance is not limited to those with club membership, officials said.

Bridge Bids Opening Set

Announcement was made yesterday by the State Roads Commission of bids being asked for the construction of one-half mile addition to the Industrial Boulevard and a 450-foot long bridge over the B&O Railroad tracks near the Wineow Street underpass to tie-in the sections of the boulevard.

Bids will be opened on the bridge and roadway August 27 in the Baltimore office of the SRC, according to John B. Funk, director-chairman of the commission.

The bridge will run from a point on Wineow Street where the old Community ballpark was located and run on a horizontal curve to a point opposite the Cumberland Macaroni Factory on Thomas Street.

The bridge will have two 34-foot dual lanes with a four-foot median strip. There will be a five-foot wide sidewalk for pedestrians. The structure will be of steel and have welded girders.

The new section of the Industrial Boulevard will run from Cresap and Thomas Street over the bridge to Williams Street.

Also planned is bidding on a section of the Cumberland Thruway from Willowbrook Road to Maryland Avenue. These bids will be requested in December, accord to Funk. This section of the Thruway will bring it to a point where it will tie -in with the elevated section of the Thruway across town. The route will follow generally the line alongside Central Avenue for some distance and will include a deep cut in the hillside.

The Cumberland Contracting Company is currently nearing completion of a section of the Industrial Boulevard from near the macaroni factory to Third Street intersection. This project is costing about $450,000.

New Run Listed By Trucking Firm

The local office of the Charlton Brothers Transportation Company today announced that starting August 26 the truck line will inaugurate a run every night from the New York area to Cumberland.

The run will be scheduled so that trucks will arrive here about 5 a.m. in time for unloading, separation and ready for early morning delivery.

Signs Indicate Park Direction

Signs pointing out the direction of Constitution Park have been installed by the Street Department.

The signs, on steel posts, are located at Park and Williams streets; Louisiana Avenue and Williams Street; and Williams Street and Reservoir Avenue, according to Street Superintendent Ray Valentine.

Men Plan Meeting

The Methodist Men of First Methodist Church will meet Saturday at 6:15 p.m. at the church. The speaker will be Rev. Frank L. Horton of McKendree Methodist Church.

Meter Receipts Up

Parking meter receipts the week of July 20 amounted to $867.75 compared to $822.25 the week of July 13, an increase of $45.50. Inspecter Harry Whisner reported to the Mayor and Council Monday.

Phoenix's Sky Harbor, in Arizona's Valley of the Sun, is one of the finest all-year airports in the United States.

Progress Seen On Route 46 Piedmont Job

Roadway To Open For Traffic Soon

PIEDMONT—Construction work on the wall on West Virginia State Route 46, located on East Hampshire Street, is expected to be completed this week, according to Edward Dorsey, maintenance engineer of the State Roads Commission.

The adjacent roadway and sidewalk are to be re-paved and bids will be received August 8 for the final phase of the construction project.

Mr. Dorsey explained that preparatory work, including a rebase will make the road ready to open temporarily for two-way traffic possibly by Wednesday, August 7. The street has been closed to traffic since April 1 when construction began to replace the old wall which had collapsed. Detour has been over Harrison Street.

The successful bidder is expected to begin the repaving immediately and have the entire project completed no later than September 1.

Piedmont K. Of C. Sponsors Carnival

PIEDMONT — Piedmont Council No. 685, Knights of Columbus, will hold a carnival August 5 to 10, Monday through Saturday on Piedmont Parking Lot 2, adjacent to the hall of Tri-Towns Fire Company 1.

Robert Myers is general chairman of the affair and co-chairmen are Julian Davis and James McGoye.

Other members of the carnival committee are Thomas Collins, William Kenny, James Cirello, Patrick Healy, John Myers and Allan L. Schaeffer.

New Democrat Club To Form At Oldtown

OLDTOWN—A group of Democratic women of the Oldtown area met at the home of Mrs. Chester Carder here Tuesday night, and made preliminary plans for the organization of an active Oldtown Democratic Club.

It was agreed that the club would be a mixed group including both men and women, with the women reserving the right to affiliate with state and national Democratic Women's Clubs, if the majority desire.

A member of the Democratic State Committee of Allegany County, F. Allan Weatherholt, invited to attend the first organizational meeting, extended greetings of the committee to the group and stated the central committee heartly endorses the formation and organization of such community clubs throughout the county. He stressed the need for emphasis on registration and emphasized the fact that many more Republican women show an interest in government and politics than Democratic women. He cited comparative registration figures for the Oldtown district and for the county generally.

He suggested that the new club place emphasis on uniting all factions and groups in the community, reserving individual rights to make their individual choice in primary elections. He said it is important for all people interested in good government and in the preservation of the American freedoms, to register and to vote.

"It is a reflection on any community and on any state," he said, "when almost a third of the eligible citizenry do not bother to register and do not vote."

Weatherholt assured the group of the cooperation of the State Central Committee at the county and state levels, and urged them to recruit as many members as they can immediately.

Mrs. James McQuown, president of the County Women's Democratic Club was present and explained the details of affiliation with the state and national Democratic Womens Clubs. She urged that the group act quickly and obtain the required membership for state and national recognition, and to meet again in about a month.

Samuel T. Weatherholt, former Orphans Court Judge was also a guest and he complimented the people present for their loyalty, sincerity and interest. He said, "Good government is possible only when the majority of people are interested and are willing to share the burden of politics and civic endeavor. It is always a forward step in any neighborhood or community when a group of serious-minded citizens join hands in a political club for the purpose of promoting their particular party and their mutual interests."

He said, "More young people must be encouraged to take part in political affairs and the new club should encourage citizens from the Oldtown area to seek public office."

"Every Democrat in this district," he added "should voluntarily join this new club and should not wait to be asked. This is one way," he concluded, "to determine which Democrats are good party people and which are motivated by some other interest."

Ross Shaw, a long-time Oldtown Democrat also attended and expressed his hope for a successful organization. He said he has long dreamed of an active Democratic Club in Oldtown and believes such an organization can do much to keep the district in the Democratic column.

Miss Majorette Of W.Va. Is Marshal Of Poultry Festival Parade Tonight

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Miss Mary Lee Schneider, Wheeling, "Miss Majorette of West Virginia" will be the grand marshal of the annual parade of the West Virginia Poultry convention and festival today at 6:30 p. m.

Miss Schneider, who operates a twirling and dance studio in Wheeling, won her title at the state contest on July 14 at Ogleby Park. She was judged on twirling, fancy strutting, charm and personality and will represent West Virginia at the national contest at the Winter Carnival in January at St. Paul, Minn. She has received 150 trophies and 200 medals for her majorette work.

The parade of 100 units, will form at the high school grounds, march up Main Street and disband at the carnival grounds where a band concert will be presented free to the public. Prize winners will also be announced at the carnival grounds.

A new division has been added to the parade for antique autos. From 25 to 30 cars are expected to appear. Prizes in the amount of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded in this division.

Judging for parade prizes will be done by a professional parade judging team from outside of West Virginia.

"Miss West Virginia Centennial Queen," Miss Nancy Jo Conwell, Clarksburg, and her court arrived last evening to participate in the beauty contest in the high school gymnasium and the parade.

An escort met the queen and her court at Toll Gate School and took them to Hotel McNeill where they were entertained at dinner by the fire company. Mrs. M. H. Maxwell, chairman of the county centennial princess committee, had charge of arrangements for the queen and her court.

The Men's Bible Class of Duffey Memorial Methodist Church will entertain officials and delegates to the West Virginia Poultry Association convention at breakfast in the church basement Thursday morning. The newly elected queen and the princesses and the West Virginia Centennial Queen and her court will be entertained at brunch this morning in the Fellowship Hall of the Moorefield Presbyterian Church by the Womans Club of Moorefield with Mrs. John Harman, chairman.

United States Senator Robert Byrd and Congressman Harley O. Staggers have notified local officials of their intentions to attend the poultry parade this evening and the president's dinner which follows at the Moose home.

The Moorefield Lions Club will serve barbecued chicken at the carnival grounds on Friday from 12 noon to 2 p. m. and 4 to 6 p. m.

The Modernaires, a ten-piece band with vocalist from the Frostburg-Cumberland area, will provide music for the Poultry Queen's ball Friday night beginning at 10 o'clock in the high school gymnasium. Tickets are still available from Deneault's Jewelry, Petersburg; Pendleton Times, Franklin, the Examiner office or Malin Friddle.

Other dances scheduled this week included one last night at the Legion home with music by Two Hits and A Miss and at the Caledonia Club tonight following the parade with music by the Modernaires.

An old fashioned riding tournament will be held at 6 p. m. Saturday at the carnival grounds under the sponsorship of the South Branch Riding Tournament Association. Eighteen riders will compete for the right to crown the queen, first, second, third and fourth maids. Trophies will be awarded to the winning riders and Attorney John Hamilton will be the speaker at the coronation which follows the tournament.

The carnival will continue to operate throughout the week and close Saturday night. A larger variety of rides, concession and food stands are available this year.

Progress Seen On Route 46 Piedmont Job

Roadway To Open For Traffic Soon

PIEDMONT—Construction work on the wall on West Virginia State Route 46, located on East Hampshire Street, is expected to be completed this week, according to Edward Dorsey, maintenance engineer of the State Roads Commission.

The adjacent roadway and sidewalk are to be re-paved and bids will be received August 8 for the final phase of the construction project.

Mr. Dorsey explained that preparatory work, including a rebase will make the road ready to open temporarily for two-way traffic possibly by Wednesday, August 7. The street has been closed to traffic since April 1 when construction began to replace the old wall which had collapsed. Detour has been over Harrison Street.

The successful bidder is expected to begin the repaving immediately and have the entire project completed no later than September 1.

Piedmont K. Of C. Sponsors Carnival

PIEDMONT — Piedmont Council No. 685, Knights of Columbus, will hold a carnival August 5 to 10, Monday through Saturday on Piedmont Parking Lot 2, adjacent to the hall of Tri-Towns Fire Company 1.

Robert Myers is general chairman of the affair and co-chairmen are Julian Davis and James McGoye.

Other members of the carnival committee are Thomas Collins, William Kenny, James Cirello, Patrick Healy, John Myers and Allan L. Schaeffer.

New Democrat Club To Form At Oldtown

OLDTOWN—A group of Democratic women of the Oldtown area met at the home of Mrs. Chester Carder here Tuesday night, and made preliminary plans for the organization of an active Oldtown Democratic Club.

It was agreed that the club would be a mixed group including both men and women, with the women reserving the right to affiliate with state and national Democratic Women's Clubs, if the majority desire.

A member of the Democratic State Committee of Allegany County, F. Allan Weatherholt, invited to attend the first organizational meeting, extended greetings of the committee to the group and stated the central committee heartly endorses the formation and organization of such community clubs throughout the county. He stressed the need for emphasis on registration and emphasized the fact that many more Republican women show an interest in government and politics than Democratic women. He cited comparative registration figures for the Oldtown district and for the county generally.

He suggested that the new club place emphasis on uniting all factions and groups in the community, reserving individual rights to make their individual choice in primary elections. He said it is important for all people interested in good government and in the preservation of the American freedoms, to register and to vote.

"It is a reflection on any community and on any state," he said, "when almost a third of the eligible citizenry do not bother to register and do not vote."

Weatherholt assured the group of the cooperation of the State Central Committee at the county and state levels, and urged them to recruit as many members as they can immediately.

Mrs. James McQuown, president of the County Women's Democratic Club was present and explained the details of affiliation with the state and national Democratic Womens Clubs. She urged that the group act quickly and obtain the required membership for state and national recognition, and to meet again in about a month.

Samuel T. Weatherholt, former Orphans Court Judge was also a guest and he complimented the people present for their loyalty, sincerity and interest. He said, "Good government is possible only when the majority of people are interested and are willing to share the burden of politics and civic endeavor. It is always a forward step in any neighborhood or community when a group of serious-minded citizens join hands in a political club for the purpose of promoting their particular party and their mutual interests."

He said, "More young people must be encouraged to take part in political affairs and the new club should encourage citizens from the Oldtown area to seek public office."

"Every Democrat in this district," he added "should voluntarily join this new club and should not wait to be asked. This is one way," he concluded, "to determine which Democrats are good party people and which are motivated by some other interest."

Ross Shaw, a long-time Oldtown Democrat also attended and expressed his hope for a successful organization. He said he has long dreamed of an active Democratic Club in Oldtown and believes such an organization can do much to keep the district in the Democratic column.

Miss Majorette Of W.Va. Is Marshal Of Poultry Festival Parade Tonight

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — Miss Mary Lee Schneider, Wheeling, "Miss Majorette of West Virginia" will be the grand marshal of the annual parade of the West Virginia Poultry convention and festival today at 6:30 p. m.

Miss Schneider, who operates a twirling and dance studio in Wheeling, won her title at the state contest on July 14 at Ogleby Park. She was judged on twirling, fancy strutting, charm and personality and will represent West Virginia at the national contest at the Winter Carnival in January at St. Paul, Minn. She has received 150 trophies and 200 medals for her majorette work.

The parade of 100 units, will form at the high school grounds, march up Main Street and disband at the carnival grounds where a band concert will be presented free to the public. Prize winners will also be announced at the carnival grounds.

A new division has been added to the parade for antique autos. From 25 to 30 cars are expected to appear. Prizes in the amount of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded in this division.

Judging for parade prizes will be done by a professional parade judging team from outside of West Virginia.

"Miss West Virginia Centennial Queen," Miss Nancy Jo Conwell, Clarksburg, and her court arrived last evening to participate in the beauty contest in the high school gymnasium and the parade.

An escort met the queen and her court at Toll Gate School and took them to Hotel McNeill where they were entertained at dinner by the fire company. Mrs. M. H. Maxwell, chairman of the county centennial princess committee, had charge of arrangements for the queen and her court.

The Men's Bible Class of Duffey Memorial Methodist Church will entertain officials and delegates to the West Virginia Poultry Association convention at breakfast in the church basement Thursday morning. The newly elected queen and the princesses and the West Virginia Centennial Queen and her court will be entertained at brunch this morning in the Fellowship Hall of the Moorefield Presbyterian Church by the Womans Club of Moorefield with Mrs. John Harman, chairman.

United States Senator Robert Byrd and Congressman Harley O. Staggers have notified local officials of their intentions to attend the poultry parade this evening and the president's dinner which follows at the Moose home.

The Moorefield Lions Club will serve barbecued chicken at the carnival grounds on Friday from 12 noon to 2 p. m. and 4 to 6 p. m.

The Modernaires, a ten-piece band with vocalist from the Frostburg-Cumberland area, will provide music for the Poultry Queen's ball Friday night beginning at 10 o'clock in the high school gymnasium. Tickets are still available from Deneault's Jewelry, Petersburg; Pendleton Times, Franklin, the Examiner office or Malin Friddle.

Other dances scheduled this week included one last night at the Legion home with music by Two Hits and A Miss and at the Caledonia Club tonight following the parade with music by the Modernaires.

An old fashioned riding tournament will be held at 6 p. m. Saturday at the carnival grounds under the sponsorship of the South Branch Riding Tournament Association. Eighteen riders will compete for the right to crown the queen, first, second, third and fourth maids. Trophies will be awarded to the winning riders and Attorney John Hamilton will be the speaker at the coronation which follows the tournament.

The carnival will continue to operate throughout the week and close Saturday night. A larger variety of rides, concession and food stands are available this year.

Computers Vs. Unemployment

One of the major difficulties in tackling the problem of unemployment in the United States is the lack of solid, factual information on the subject. There are statistics on over-all rates of joblessness and such, but there is little available data on where job vacancies exist so that individuals can be found to fill them.

This is the heart of a discussion of the problem by Dr. Arthur F. Burns, president of the National Bureau of Economic Research and former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under Eisenhower, published in the newsletter of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

Describing the lack of statistics on job vacancies as "deplorable," Burns points out that without such data it is impossible to ascertain to what extent the economy fails to provide "sufficient employment opportunities to permit, in principle, a job for all who are able, willing and seeking to work."

The economist proposes putting electronic computers to work to bring jobs and jobless men together. "With their aid," he says, "an unemployed worker expressing his need or preference to an officer of an employment exchange might be referred in a matter of hours, if not minutes, to a list of potential employers (outside his community if there are none in his own) who need that type of employe."

Sounds reasonable. But certainly not the heart of the problem. Computers cannot create jobs that do not exist. This is the key need, and one that only an expansion of the economy can accomplish. And if the jobs exist, chances are they will attract job-hunters.

Computers may be able to rearrange the statistics a bit, but they cannot solve the unemployment problem. This can only be accomplished by men using wisdom in applying the information the computers collect.

These Days

Immigration And Ideology

One of the worst things about the modern conflict of ideologies is the way it has of turning even the most benevolently intended policies into dangerous traps.

There is President Kennedy's proposal to change our immigration laws, for example. Immigration under present legislation is by quota related to the "national origins" percentages of the existing U.S. population. Thus the British Isles, Germany, the Scandinavian nations and Italy, countries which have accounted for the largest numbers of Americanized immigrants in the past, have a legal right to the biggest continuing quotas. The 1952 Walter-McCarran Act amendment to the quota system permits a basic allowance of one hundred immigrants a year to any country, irrespective of the number of its nationals who have previously transferred their citizenship to the United States. This basic measure of exemption was made to remove the feeling that our immigration quotas are based on a philosophy of racial discrimination.

Nevertheless, the charges of discrimination crop up whenever the Walter-McCarran Act is discussed. President Kennedy has himself called the "national origins system" discriminatory. He has asked Congress to shift to a "world quota" basis, with the current "national quotas" being phased out over the next five years. Eventually the idea would be to put a ceiling on any single nation at a cut-off figure equalling ten per cent of the total of a "world quota" of 165,000 annual immigrants.

As one who grew up in the "melting pot" era of American life, I have never had any feeling that restrictions on immigration are desirable for purely ethnic reasons. My playmates on Park Street in old pre-urban renewal New Haven, Connecticut, included John Sinosky, a Pole; Abie Silver, a Jew; Pritchard Clue, a Negro; Willie Murray, an Irish boy; Lester Zimmerman, a German; Gordon Swebilius, a Swede; and Linwood Tower, a Yankee. We got along together in a good freemasonry, even though we were careless at times with our ethnic epithets, and I have often wondered what became of our old innocent multi-racial Fourth Grade Webster School gang.

All the innocence of that pre-World War I era evaporated, however, with the rise of the ideologies. The big trouble with immigration in the modern age is that there seems to be no good way of screening out the "sleeper" agents of malevolently disposed foreign powers that are bent on killing democratic capitalism throughout the world.

Since Communists are always willing to use the lie as an instrument of policy, there is no ready method of preventing a totalitarian agent from reaching our shores under a "cover" designed to make him acceptable as a prospective citizen with a desirable economic skill.

Any proposed changes in our immigration laws, then, should be considered from a practical standpoint: would or would they not increase the likelihood of making "cover" easier for the Communists? The unintended virtue of the present "national quota" system is that the British Isles, Germany, the Scandinavian countries, and Italy are the heirs to western traditions, and hence presumably less likely to produce potential Communists. True enough, there is the possibility that an immigrant from Germany may have a hidden predilection for Nazism which will subsequently crop out during a demonstration on the streets of the Yorkville neighborhood in New York City.

And, since the "opening to the East" has encouraged Communist inroads in Italy, there may be more Italians who might be provided with "cover" to conceal their true ideological commitments. But, in general, the existing "national quota" system assures the United States that it will receive immigrants who are disposed to accept a free philosophy.

The problem, if the Walter-McCarran Act is to be replaced, would be to make sure that the U.S. is not infiltrated with a bigger proportion of immigrants who would owe their primary allegiance to totalitarian institutions. My own feelings are clear: the more Hungarian Freedom Fighters that come to this country, the better I would like it. Similarly with anti-Castro Cubans and pro-Chiang Kai-shek refugees who escape from the Chinese mainland to Hongkong. But if the current immigration laws are to be changed, we would need much more sensitive methods of ideological screening than we have at present.

How to get such screening? It is up to the proponents of a "world quota" immigration system to prove that it can be had. Otherwise we had better stand pat on the laws we now have.

'Yo Ho—Yo Ho—It's Off to Work We Go'

The 'Other America' Of The Lower Depths

By Joseph Alsop

PHILADELPHIA.

For any fairly prosperous white American, who is also proud of his country, on-the-spot reporting of the civil rights crisis in a big Northern city like this one is an almost unbearably painful experience.

If anything, the situation of the Negroes here in Philadelphia is rather better than in most of the great Northern cities. But go into Philadelphia's Negro slums, with their countless blocks of half-ruinous row houses, in which it is not uncommon to find 20 or 30 people living in six filthy little rooms, with a single, unspeakable common toilet.

You find squalid, teacher-short high schools from which more than three-quarters of the children drop out before completing the course. You are led to one 12-block area where 80 per cent of the young were found to be jobless by a recent survey.

You hear such tales of slum landordism as the case of the respectable and hard-working Negro woman who is fruitlessly trying to collect damages because the floor of her apartment gave way, dropping her into the next apartment, where the floor also gave way, dropping her onto another unfortunate woman in the cellar and gravely injuring them both.

"Things are better," people tell you. But when you ask how much better, you get such an answer as I got from one of the leaders of the Philadelphia Ministers Conference, Rev. Amos Brackeen. He had been explaining how the Ministers Conference was using the weapon of the boycott to break job discrimination in large local industries.

"You can't imagine what it means to my people," he said very simply, "to see the gas meter being read or a few cases of soft-drinks being delivered by men of their own race. Those are jobs involving money, receipts, paper work. They weren't jobs for Negroes before just the other day."

Of such data, a few days' work will produce enough to fill a book. And on every page of that book will be written the shame, the dishonor, the failure of American society.

The nine Americans in ten who belong to the affluent America should be sentenced by law to spend one day a week in that "other America" that you find in the slums of North Philadelphia. See at first hand, and the actual physical impulse to cry out for instantaneous remedies is not easy to restrain.

See the situation at first hand, furthermore, and you will learn the bitter truth that although discrimination is being worn away by daily pressure, the underlying problem is still growing more difficult rather than more easy. Already, the earnings of Negro women are estimated to exceed the earnings of Negro men by as much as 80 per cent. There are more unskilled jobs open for women than for men; so the men rot in idleness and the women keep them.

Every building that installs automatic elevators abolishes four or eight or ten Negro jobs. Every industrial process improved to eliminate rough, strong-backed work eliminates 30 or 40 or 50 Negro jobs. And in Negro ghettos, educational deprivation has always gone hand-in-hand with economic deprivation; so those who lose their jobs as common laborers are never able to find jobs as skilled workers.

This is not just a Negro problem, either. In the "other America" of economic and educational deprivation the national statistics show that more than half the inhabitants are white men and women and children in depressed areas or unlucky cities or impoverished rural regions. The time has come—indeed, the time came long ago—for a massive national effort to help all the inhabitants of this "other America" to escape into normal American society.

For the Negro people, the end of racial discrimination is the most essential part of that effort. For all the inhabitants of the "other America," huge investments are also needed, in education above all, but also in job retraining programs, in some sort of revived CCC to make a bridge into normal life for the jobless young people, and so on and on.

Even then, the problem will not be solved for the Negro people unless their leaders quickly begin to recognize an additional duty besides the duty to be militant against discrimination. Resignation, hopeless, the feeling that "it's no use learning to do jobs that aren't for Negroes," have played and still continue to play as large a role in Negro educational deprivation as the shocking badness of so many segregated schools.

Only the Negro leaders can combat these ingrained attitudes of their own people. Only the Negro leaders can stimulate the block-by-block organization that is needed to combat slum conditions, and to insure better schools by strong parent-teacher organizations, and in many other ways to work from the grass roots to make life better.

Only the Negro leaders, in short, can make sure their people are ready to pass through the doors open at last. As for the rest of us, our task is to insure that the doors open wide and open fast; and if we fail, we shall be derelict in our duties to our country and our God.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

SPACE PROBLEM—The Goddard Space Flight Center is located in Maryland, a few miles from the nation's capital. It is a key installation in this country's space effort.

A key part of Goddard, in turn, is an instrument-testing site, chosen because it was free of mineral-bearing rocks which would have distorted some of the super-sensitive instruments designed and tested there. However, despite all of this careful planning, things have been going awry. In recent days exasperated Goddard scientists have been plagued by, of all things, discarded beer cans!

Dozens of the "empties" have been located on the instrument-testing site. In addition, they've found two over-age auto engines and an old kitchen stove—all of which have been magnetizing the area and throwing instrument-testing way off. Now, a regular part of the routine at Goddard is policing the area.

RURAL ROUNDELAYS—A club composed of members of the Department of Agriculture decided on a fun contest recently—the idea was for members to submit humorous, pointed song titles.

While ineligible to enter the competition, the staff of the Republican Congressional Committee decided to have some fun of its own. Here are some of the song titles they made up:

"How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm?", "Sing Along With Orville or It's Sing Sing for You," "Singin' in the Grain" and "Why Did Your Votes Say 'No, No, When We Got 'Yes, Yes' from Our Spies?"

That last title refers to the drubbing the department got from farmers who voted against controls on wheat production.

Emergency Treatment Needed In Heat Strokes

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Sunstroke usually follows too much exposure or too much exercise in the broiling sun. Heat stroke is similar except that it follows prolonged exposure to excessive heat, in or out of doors. The symptoms are the same: headache, fever, faintness, abdominal distress and redness of the skin.

Call it what you wish the basic cause is heat and the condition is seen most frequently during heat waves. The body reaches a stage where it cannot take the sizzling temperatures and the heat regulatory mechanism breaks down. The sweat glands are exhausted and refuse to work and the body temperature mounts and may reach 110° F. within a short time. The high body temperature and lack of sweating leave the skin hot, flushed, and dry. This is in contrast to heat prostration, a related condition, in which the skin is cold and clammy. These individuals lack salt and water.

Heat stroke is serious and can be fatal unless the victims are cooled off. The brain, heart, kidneys, and liver may be damaged by the fever. Heroic emergency measures are needed and at once.

Mild heat stroke responds usually to resting in a cool place with adequate circulation of fresh air and the removal of most of the clothing. This is effective only when the victim is seen early and the condition is suspected because of the flushed appearance.

But, in most instances, the first clew occurs when the person collapses after being out on a scorching day more so when the humidity is high. The most useful remedy at this time is immersion in ice water. This may sound drastic but there is no effective substitute.

The victim is placed in a tub of cold water and pieces of ice are added until the rectal temperature falls below 103° F. Ice water sponge baths, rubbing with ice, wet sheets, and electric fans are less effective than the ice bath. The physician should be called because of the serious nature of this disease.

FENCING OFF POLLEN

M. O. writes: Why is it that my hay fever is better when I stay in my own back yard?

REPLY

Your residence may be sheltered by trees or by a certain type of high fence that decreases wind velocity, thus reducing the amount of pollen reaching your respiratory tract.

DON'T OVERHEAT

M. B. writes: Must a person with high blood pressure stay out of the sun?

REPLY

No, but he should avoid overexposure because high blood pressure does not go well with heat exhaustion or heat stroke.

NO SECONDS

W. S. writes: Eight years ago I had my female organs removed. Is is possible to have them replaced?

REPLY

No. This is the price you have paid for remaining alive and free of distress.

LATE WALKER

Mrs. B. R. writes: My first child started walking at 9 months but the second, now 15 months old, has not started. Do you think it is because he has flat feet?

REPLY

Most children, before they start walking, appear to have flat feet. But since youngsters usually start walking before 15 months, why not get firsthand information on your child's physical and mental progress, along with the condition of his feet?

TOMORROW: The hepatitis pattern.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Alan King hurt his knee backstage at a benefit performance recently. He swears he didn't make a sound when he fell—but a lawyer way out in the lobby heard him and rushed backstage to offer his services. "We'll sue the theatre owners for a hundred thousand dollars," he proposed. "That seems like a lot for just a bump on my knee," answered King. "What's your fee going to be?" "It's like this, Mr. King," answered the lawyer. "If we lose, I won't get a cent. And if we win—you won't get a cent."

A wife who was not unskilled at hen-pecking her husband wound up one evening's outburst with this classic: "And don't think for a minute, you little worm, that I didn't see you huddling there with your hands in your pockets making fists at me!"

John Isard, manager of the swanky Stanhope Hotel, received this plea recently from a lady in Texas: "The laundry down here has lost all the towels we took from your hotel. Can you please replace them?"

Little Tillie Expresso had the prize excuse of the week for being late to school: "I guess I overwashed."

Military Usually Tries To Undercut Civilian Efforts For Disarmament

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It has been true, ever since I can remember, that the military always tried to undercut a civilian President's steps toward disarmament and peace. In this, they have been completely bipartisan. They have tried to undercut Republican Presidents just as much as they tried to undercut Democrats.

And they have received plenty of help from the war contractors and defense industries.

The success of John F. Kennedy's first step in the 1,000-mile journey toward peace will, therefore, depend in part on the military.

I remember vividly reporting on the activities of William Baldwin Shearer, paid $40,000 by Bethlehem Steel, Newport News ship and other defense contractors, to disrupt the Coolidge Naval Conference in Geneva in 1927. The steel companies and shipyards were willing to put up what was then a very large amount of money because they didn't want arms reduction and peace. They preferred the risk of war.

And it was Admiral Joseph Reeves, chief U. S. Naval adviser at Geneva, who played ball deliberately and brazenly with lobbyist Shearer.

Stassen Is Undermined

There was also Admiral Hilary P Jones, adviser to the London Naval Conference during the Hoover administration, who came back to testify against any limitation of 10,000-ton cruisers, though the battle of the Graf Spee during World War II showed that two 6,000-ton British cruisers could run circles around the 10,000-ton Graf Spee and put her out of action.

More recently there was the case of Eisenhower's efforts at disarmament, when Harold Stassen almost had an agreement with the Russians similar to that just initialed by Averell Harriman.

But Ike's own military undermined him. Bulganin and Khrushchev in 1957 appeared willing to go even further than the present test ban agreement, were even discussing the withdrawal of the Red Army from Hungary and other satellite countries.

But the U. S. military got to Nixon and John Foster Dulles, and Stassen was told to take a back seat.

How much the military had to do with sending the U-2 spy plane over Russia just on the eve of a summit conference dedicated to peace has never been definitely ascertained, it is known that the U-2 started from a U. S. military base in Turkey and refueled at another U. S. base in Pakistan.

Kennedy's Tactics

To guard against either sabotage or honest differences from his military leaders, President Kennedy and Secretary of Defense McNamara met with the Joint Chiefs of Staff in a closed door conference last week. With one possible exception, the present chiefs of staff are considered much more reasonable men, but they have already started leaking individual dissent to friends on Capitol Hill. To JFK and McNamara privately, they expressed concern at the refusal of some scientists to guarantee that all atmospheric tests can be detected. They believe our present system is foolproof, but that powerful Soviet rockets could get away with testing H-bombs hundreds of thousands of miles in space.

However, most scientists agree that this likelihood is too remote to let it wreck the best chance in years to end the cold war.

The Joint Chiefs also expressed fear that the development of our own nuclear weapons would be hampered by a test ban.

Gen. Earle Wheeler, the Army chief, warned that Russia is ahead of the United States in developing nuclear-tipped anti-missile missiles. Without testing in the atmosphere, he said, we may not be able to perfect our defenses against a missile attack.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, the Air Force chief, also pointed out that Russia is ahead in building monster bombs over 20 megatons, is believed to have reduced a 30-megaton warhead to a size that will fit on their giant intercontinental missiles. The largest warheads our missiles can lift packs only a 6-megaton punch.

Secretary of Defense McNamara argued, however, that the United States is ahead of Russia in the development of most nuclear weapons, therefore, a test ban would be more to the detriment of most nuclear weapons, therefore, a test ban would be more to the detriment of Russia.

He also claimed that our laboratories have amazing computers which can simulate nuclear explosions and thus enable our scientists to continue developing any weapons we may still need.

McNamara argued that monster H-bombs cannot destroy a target any more effectively than our smaller bombs, therefore, have no real military value except as a terror weapon.

Finally, McNamara insisted that the most serious threat to American security will come from the proliferation of nuclear weapons. Already 42 nations have the ability to build peaceful nuclear reactors, which is about halfway toward the development of an A-bomb.

By curbing nuclear tests and slowing the nuclear arms race, McNamara argued, we might be able to stop these nations from becoming nuclear powers. This would eliminate the greatest potential danger, he said, to the nation's security.

The terms of reference were different, but it sounded very much like the old argument of whether a 7,500-ton cruiser could steam fast enough to knock out a 10,000-ton cruiser. What the military forgot is that once atomic war gets started nobody will have a chance to argue about anything.

Time Out

By John Crosby

TORREMOLINOS, Spain

This is the end of my year. Everyone else's year ends December 31. My year ends July 31. I get tired on July 31. I want to start out to sea. I want to finish the play started last year at this time. I want to see a few bullfights, a few friends.

Of course, there are those who say that a columnist's life is a permanent vacation. This is quite true. There are those who say that the difference between a columnist on vacation and a columnist at work is so slight that it takes genius to tell the difference. True, all true.

There are others who say that a columnist's work is never done. True, absolutely true. These others—a kinder, decenter, more humane lot than the ones in the paragraph above—cry out that a column of 750 words a day, four times a week, is a form of slavery that oughn't to be allowed by law; that three columns a week, maybe two, maybe even one a week (at the same pay, of course) is enough blood to expect of the poor wretch. True, all too true. There are some even who claim the whole profession of columning ought to be done away with as cruel and inhuman punishment. (Well, now let's not be too hasty, mates. We don't want any of that kind of talk around here.)

Both of these irreconcilable positions are absolutely sound. Daily columning is a form of cruel and inhuman punishment, the tortures of which are almost beyond comprehension to those who haven't done it. (And I mean done it for years.) Columning is also one of the cushiest jobs on earth. True, absolutely true. Both cruel and cushy.

But after a solid, uninterrupted year, the cruel part takes precedence over the cushy part. Fellow has to sit down and breathe easier for a bit.

As is my custom, I have dragooned a number of other people into doing my work for the next month. There'll be guest columns from Jules Feiffer, Arthur Cantor, and other wits and scholars who will complain about modern life with varying degrees of petulance.

Most of my guest columnist do this extremely well, damn it. For the last 15 years, I have been warned again and again about guest columnists. "If they're bad, they make you look bad. If they're too good, they make you look bad. You can't win with guest columns, good or bad." True, all true. Still I've been using guest columnists for 15 years and the sun continues to rise in the east and set in the west.

This taking off leaves a certain amount of unfinished business. I mean to write about Rose Friedman, for instance. Who's Rose Friedman? Well, she's living in Torremolinos on five pesetas (roughly seven cents) a day. She's a secretary-bookkeeper from Johannesburg who suddenly felt secretary-bookkeeping was not fulfilling her and hit out for the wide world. How does she live on five pesetos a day? Well, she sleeps on the beach (cold in the winter, she says), she eats the free crackers at Pedro's and the free cheese bits at the Bar Central. She's put on 30 pounds with this diet. But she'll have to wait until after my vacation.

I wanted to tell you about "The Spanish Lesson" that's running in Lookout, a new English-language publication here. First lesson: "My husband is an ornithologist. He studies birds." ("Mi marido es un ornitologo. Estudia pajaros.") "How amusing." ("Que divertido.") "Yes and no. There are many hospital bills." ("Si y no. Hay muchas cuentas de hospital.") "Why?" ("Por que?") "Because he climbs trees to look at nests and, as he is getting on in years, he frequently falls." ("Porque se encarama a los arboles para ver los nidos y como esta viejecito, frecuentemente se cae.") "Poor old chap." ("Pobrecito.") And so on. But "The Spanish Lesson" will have to come later.

As a matter of fact, I was going to do a piece about English-language journalism on the Costa Del Soil which is wild, man, wild. What I like about Lookout is its pictures and especially its captions. There is a picture of a guy with his arms around somebody else's wife. The caption: "While the cat's away, the mice will play."

Another picture: "The last picture taken of writer-wit-gourmet Edgar Neville before he fell asleep at the wheel on his way back from a flamenco near Sevilla during the feria and his car ran into a tree. Luckily, his injuries were not serious."

All these good things will have to wait until I come back.

Computers Vs. Unemployment

One of the major difficulties in tackling the problem of unemployment in the United States is the lack of solid, factual information on the subject. There are statistics on over-all rates of joblessness and such, but there is little available data on where job vacancies exist so that individuals can be found to fill them.

This is the heart of a discussion of the problem by Dr. Arthur F. Burns, president of the National Bureau of Economic Research and former chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under Eisenhower, published in the newsletter of the Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

Describing the lack of statistics on job vacancies as "deplorable," Burns points out that without such data it is impossible to ascertain to what extent the economy fails to provide "sufficient employment opportunities to permit, in principle, a job for all who are able, willing and seeking to work."

The economist proposes putting electronic computers to work to bring jobs and jobless men together. "With their aid," he says, "an unemployed worker expressing his need or preference to an officer of an employment exchange might be referred in a matter of hours, if not minutes, to a list of potential employers (outside his community if there are none in his own) who need that type of employe."

Sounds reasonable. But certainly not the heart of the problem. Computers cannot create jobs that do not exist. This is the key need, and one that only an expansion of the economy can accomplish. And if the jobs exist, chances are they will attract job-hunters.

Computers may be able to rearrange the statistics a bit, but they cannot solve the unemployment problem. This can only be accomplished by men using wisdom in applying the information the computers collect.

These Days

Immigration And Ideology

One of the worst things about the modern conflict of ideologies is the way it has of turning even the most benevolently intended policies into dangerous traps.

There is President Kennedy's proposal to change our immigration laws, for example. Immigration under present legislation is by quota related to the "national origins" percentages of the existing U.S. population. Thus the British Isles, Germany, the Scandinavian nations and Italy, countries which have accounted for the largest numbers of Americanized immigrants in the past, have a legal right to the biggest continuing quotas. The 1952 Walter-McCarran Act amendment to the quota system permits a basic allowance of one hundred immigrants a year to any country, irrespective of the number of its nationals who have previously transferred their citizenship to the United States. This basic measure of exemption was made to remove the feeling that our immigration quotas are based on a philosophy of racial discrimination.

Nevertheless, the charges of discrimination crop up whenever the Walter-McCarran Act is discussed. President Kennedy has himself called the "national origins system" discriminatory. He has asked Congress to shift to a "world quota" basis, with the current "national quotas" being phased out over the next five years. Eventually the idea would be to put a ceiling on any single nation at a cut-off figure equalling ten per cent of the total of a "world quota" of 165,000 annual immigrants.

As one who grew up in the "melting pot" era of American life, I have never had any feeling that restrictions on immigration are desirable for purely ethnic reasons. My playmates on Park Street in old pre-urban renewal New Haven, Connecticut, included John Sinosky, a Pole; Abie Silver, a Jew; Pritchard Clue, a Negro; Willie Murray, an Irish boy; Lester Zimmerman, a German; Gordon Swebilius, a Swede; and Linwood Tower, a Yankee. We got along together in a good freemasonry, even though we were careless at times with our ethnic epithets, and I have often wondered what became of our old innocent multi-racial Fourth Grade Webster School gang.

All the innocence of that pre-World War I era evaporated, however, with the rise of the ideologies. The big trouble with immigration in the modern age is that there seems to be no good way of screening out the "sleeper" agents of malevolently disposed foreign powers that are bent on killing democratic capitalism throughout the world.

Since Communists are always willing to use the lie as an instrument of policy, there is no ready method of preventing a totalitarian agent from reaching our shores under a "cover" designed to make him acceptable as a prospective citizen with a desirable economic skill.

Any proposed changes in our immigration laws, then, should be considered from a practical standpoint: would or would they not increase the likelihood of making "cover" easier for the Communists? The unintended virtue of the present "national quota" system is that the British Isles, Germany, the Scandinavian countries, and Italy are the heirs to western traditions, and hence presumably less likely to produce potential Communists. True enough, there is the possibility that an immigrant from Germany may have a hidden predilection for Nazism which will subsequently crop out during a demonstration on the streets of the Yorkville neighborhood in New York City.

And, since the "opening to the East" has encouraged Communist inroads in Italy, there may be more Italians who might be provided with "cover" to conceal their true ideological commitments. But, in general, the existing "national quota" system assures the United States that it will receive immigrants who are disposed to accept a free philosophy.

The problem, if the Walter-McCarran Act is to be replaced, would be to make sure that the U.S. is not infiltrated with a bigger proportion of immigrants who would owe their primary allegiance to totalitarian institutions. My own feelings are clear: the more Hungarian Freedom Fighters that come to this country, the better I would like it. Similarly with anti-Castro Cubans and pro-Chiang Kai-shek refugees who escape from the Chinese mainland to Hongkong. But if the current immigration laws are to be changed, we would need much more sensitive methods of ideological screening than we have at present.

How to get such screening? It is up to the proponents of a "world quota" immigration system to prove that it can be had. Otherwise we had better stand pat on the laws we now have.

'Yo Ho—Yo Ho—It's Off to Work We Go'

Military Usually Tries To Undercut Civilian Efforts For Disarmament

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — It has been true, ever since I can remember, that the military always tried to undercut a civilian President's steps toward disarmament and peace. In this, they have been completely bipartisan. They have tried to undercut Republican Presidents just as much as they tried to undercut Democrats.

And they have received plenty of help from the war contractors and defense industries.

The success of John F. Kennedy's first step in the 1,000-mile journey toward peace will, therefore, depend in part on the military.

I remember vividly reporting on the activities of William Baldwin Shearer, paid $40,000 by Bethlehem Steel, Newport News ship and other defense contractors, to disrupt the Coolidge Naval Conference in Geneva in 1927. The steel companies and shipyards were willing to put up what was then a very large amount of money because they didn't want arms reduction and peace. They preferred the risk of war.

And it was Admiral Joseph Reeves, chief U. S. Naval adviser at Geneva, who played ball deliberately and brazenly with lobbyist Shearer.

Stassen Is Undermined

There was also Admiral Hilary P Jones, adviser to the London Naval Conference during the Hoover administration, who came back to testify against any limitation of 10,000-ton cruisers, though the battle of the Graf Spee during World War II showed that two 6,000-ton British cruisers could run circles around the 10,000-ton Graf Spee and put her out of action.

More recently there was the case of Eisenhower's efforts at disarmament, when Harold Stassen almost had an agreement with the Russians similar to that just initialed by Averell Harriman.

But Ike's own military undermined him. Bulganin and Khrushchev in 1957 appeared willing to go even further than the present test ban agreement, were even discussing the withdrawal of the Red Army from Hungary and other satellite countries.

But the U. S. military got to Nixon and John Foster Dulles, and Stassen was told to take a back seat.

How much the military had to do with sending the U-2 spy plane over Russia just on the eve of a summit conference dedicated to peace has never been definitely ascertained, it is known that the U-2 started from a U. S. military base in Turkey and refueled at another U. S. base in Pakistan.

Kennedy's Tactics

To guard against either sabotage or honest differences from his military leaders, President Kennedy and Secretary of Defense McNamara met with the Joint Chiefs of Staff in a closed door conference last week. With one possible exception, the present chiefs of staff are considered much more reasonable men, but they have already started leaking individual dissent to friends on Capitol Hill. To JFK and McNamara privately, they expressed concern at the refusal of some scientists to guarantee that all atmospheric tests can be detected. They believe our present system is foolproof, but that powerful Soviet rockets could get away with testing H-bombs hundreds of thousands of miles in space.

However, most scientists agree that this likelihood is too remote to let it wreck the best chance in years to end the cold war.

The Joint Chiefs also expressed fear that the development of our own nuclear weapons would be hampered by a test ban.

Gen. Earle Wheeler, the Army chief, warned that Russia is ahead of the United States in developing nuclear-tipped anti-missile missiles. Without testing in the atmosphere, he said, we may not be able to perfect our defenses against a missile attack.

Gen. Curtis LeMay, the Air Force chief, also pointed out that Russia is ahead in building monster bombs over 20 megatons, is believed to have reduced a 30-megaton warhead to a size that will fit on their giant intercontinental missiles. The largest warheads our missiles can lift packs only a 6-megaton punch.

Secretary of Defense McNamara argued, however, that the United States is ahead of Russia in the development of most nuclear weapons, therefore, a test ban would be more to the detriment of most nuclear weapons, therefore, a test ban would be more to the detriment of Russia.

He also claimed that our laboratories have amazing computers which can simulate nuclear explosions and thus enable our scientists to continue developing any weapons we may still need.

McNamara argued that monster H-bombs cannot destroy a target any more effectively than our smaller bombs, therefore, have no real military value except as a terror weapon.

Finally, McNamara insisted that the most serious threat to American security will come from the proliferation of nuclear weapons. Already 42 nations have the ability to build peaceful nuclear reactors, which is about halfway toward the development of an A-bomb.

By curbing nuclear tests and slowing the nuclear arms race, McNamara argued, we might be able to stop these nations from becoming nuclear powers. This would eliminate the greatest potential danger, he said, to the nation's security.

The terms of reference were different, but it sounded very much like the old argument of whether a 7,500-ton cruiser could steam fast enough to knock out a 10,000-ton cruiser. What the military forgot is that once atomic war gets started nobody will have a chance to argue about anything.

The 'Other America' Of The Lower Depths

By Joseph Alsop

PHILADELPHIA.

For any fairly prosperous white American, who is also proud of his country, on-the-spot reporting of the civil rights crisis in a big Northern city like this one is an almost unbearably painful experience.

If anything, the situation of the Negroes here in Philadelphia is rather better than in most of the great Northern cities. But go into Philadelphia's Negro slums, with their countless blocks of half-ruinous row houses, in which it is not uncommon to find 20 or 30 people living in six filthy little rooms, with a single, unspeakable common toilet.

You find squalid, teacher-short high schools from which more than three-quarters of the children drop out before completing the course. You are led to one 12-block area where 80 per cent of the young were found to be jobless by a recent survey.

You hear such tales of slum landordism as the case of the respectable and hard-working Negro woman who is fruitlessly trying to collect damages because the floor of her apartment gave way, dropping her into the next apartment, where the floor also gave way, dropping her onto another unfortunate woman in the cellar and gravely injuring them both.

"Things are better," people tell you. But when you ask how much better, you get such an answer as I got from one of the leaders of the Philadelphia Ministers Conference, Rev. Amos Brackeen. He had been explaining how the Ministers Conference was using the weapon of the boycott to break job discrimination in large local industries.

"You can't imagine what it means to my people," he said very simply, "to see the gas meter being read or a few cases of soft-drinks being delivered by men of their own race. Those are jobs involving money, receipts, paper work. They weren't jobs for Negroes before just the other day."

Of such data, a few days' work will produce enough to fill a book. And on every page of that book will be written the shame, the dishonor, the failure of American society.

The nine Americans in ten who belong to the affluent America should be sentenced by law to spend one day a week in that "other America" that you find in the slums of North Philadelphia. See at first hand, and the actual physical impulse to cry out for instantaneous remedies is not easy to restrain.

See the situation at first hand, furthermore, and you will learn the bitter truth that although discrimination is being worn away by daily pressure, the underlying problem is still growing more difficult rather than more easy. Already, the earnings of Negro women are estimated to exceed the earnings of Negro men by as much as 80 per cent. There are more unskilled jobs open for women than for men; so the men rot in idleness and the women keep them.

Every building that installs automatic elevators abolishes four or eight or ten Negro jobs. Every industrial process improved to eliminate rough, strong-backed work eliminates 30 or 40 or 50 Negro jobs. And in Negro ghettos, educational deprivation has always gone hand-in-hand with economic deprivation; so those who lose their jobs as common laborers are never able to find jobs as skilled workers.

This is not just a Negro problem, either. In the "other America" of economic and educational deprivation the national statistics show that more than half the inhabitants are white men and women and children in depressed areas or unlucky cities or impoverished rural regions. The time has come—indeed, the time came long ago—for a massive national effort to help all the inhabitants of this "other America" to escape into normal American society.

For the Negro people, the end of racial discrimination is the most essential part of that effort. For all the inhabitants of the "other America," huge investments are also needed, in education above all, but also in job retraining programs, in some sort of revived CCC to make a bridge into normal life for the jobless young people, and so on and on.

Even then, the problem will not be solved for the Negro people unless their leaders quickly begin to recognize an additional duty besides the duty to be militant against discrimination. Resignation, hopeless, the feeling that "it's no use learning to do jobs that aren't for Negroes," have played and still continue to play as large a role in Negro educational deprivation as the shocking badness of so many segregated schools.

Only the Negro leaders can combat these ingrained attitudes of their own people. Only the Negro leaders can stimulate the block-by-block organization that is needed to combat slum conditions, and to insure better schools by strong parent-teacher organizations, and in many other ways to work from the grass roots to make life better.

Only the Negro leaders, in short, can make sure their people are ready to pass through the doors open at last. As for the rest of us, our task is to insure that the doors open wide and open fast; and if we fail, we shall be derelict in our duties to our country and our God.

Inside Washington

SPACE PROBLEM—The Goddard Space Flight Center is located in Maryland, a few miles from the nation's capital. It is a key installation in this country's space effort.

A key part of Goddard, in turn, is an instrument-testing site, chosen because it was free of mineral-bearing rocks which would have distorted some of the super-sensitive instruments designed and tested there. However, despite all of this careful planning, things have been going awry. In recent days exasperated Goddard scientists have been plagued by, of all things, discarded beer cans!

Dozens of the "empties" have been located on the instrument-testing site. In addition, they've found two over-age auto engines and an old kitchen stove—all of which have been magnetizing the area and throwing instrument-testing way off. Now, a regular part of the routine at Goddard is policing the area.

RURAL ROUNDELAYS—A club composed of members of the Department of Agriculture decided on a fun contest recently—the idea was for members to submit humorous, pointed song titles.

While ineligible to enter the competition, the staff of the Republican Congressional Committee decided to have some fun of its own. Here are some of the song titles they made up:

"How You Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm?", "Sing Along With Orville or It's Sing Sing for You," "Singin' in the Grain" and "Why Did Your Votes Say 'No, No, When We Got 'Yes, Yes' from Our Spies?"

That last title refers to the drubbing the department got from farmers who voted against controls on wheat production.

Time Out

TORREMOLINOS, Spain

This is the end of my year. Everyone else's year ends December 31. My year ends July 31. I get tired on July 31. I want to start out to sea. I want to finish the play started last year at this time. I want to see a few bullfights, a few friends.

Of course, there are those who say that a columnist's life is a permanent vacation. This is quite true. There are those who say that the difference between a columnist on vacation and a columnist at work is so slight that it takes genius to tell the difference. True, all true.

There are others who say that a columnist's work is never done. True, absolutely true. These others—a kinder, decenter, more humane lot than the ones in the paragraph above—cry out that a column of 750 words a day, four times a week, is a form of slavery that oughn't to be allowed by law; that three columns a week, maybe two, maybe even one a week (at the same pay, of course) is enough blood to expect of the poor wretch. True, all too true. There are some even who claim the whole profession of columning ought to be done away with as cruel and inhuman punishment. (Well, now let's not be too hasty, mates. We don't want any of that kind of talk around here.)

Both of these irreconcilable positions are absolutely sound. Daily columning is a form of cruel and inhuman punishment, the tortures of which are almost beyond comprehension to those who haven't done it. (And I mean done it for years.) Columning is also one of the cushiest jobs on earth. True, absolutely true. Both cruel and cushy.

But after a solid, uninterrupted year, the cruel part takes precedence over the cushy part. Fellow has to sit down and breathe easier for a bit.

As is my custom, I have dragooned a number of other people into doing my work for the next month. There'll be guest columns from Jules Feiffer, Arthur Cantor, and other wits and scholars who will complain about modern life with varying degrees of petulance.

Most of my guest columnist do this extremely well, damn it. For the last 15 years, I have been warned again and again about guest columnists. "If they're bad, they make you look bad. If they're too good, they make you look bad. You can't win with guest columns, good or bad." True, all true. Still I've been using guest columnists for 15 years and the sun continues to rise in the east and set in the west.

This taking off leaves a certain amount of unfinished business. I mean to write about Rose Friedman, for instance. Who's Rose Friedman? Well, she's living in Torremolinos on five pesetas (roughly seven cents) a day. She's a secretary-bookkeeper from Johannesburg who suddenly felt secretary-bookkeeping was not fulfilling her and hit out for the wide world. How does she live on five pesetos a day? Well, she sleeps on the beach (cold in the winter, she says), she eats the free crackers at Pedro's and the free cheese bits at the Bar Central. She's put on 30 pounds with this diet. Emergency Treatment Needed In Heat Strokes

Sunstroke usually follows too much exposure or too much exercise in the broiling sun. Heat stroke is similar except that it follows prolonged exposure to excessive heat, in or out of doors. The symptoms are the same: headache, fever, faintness, abdominal distress and redness of the skin.

Call it what you wish the basic cause is heat and the condition is seen most frequently during heat waves. The body reaches a stage where it cannot take the sizzling temperatures and the heat regulatory mechanism breaks down. The sweat glands are exhausted and refuse to work and the body temperature mounts and may reach 110° F. within a short time. The high body temperature and lack of sweating leave the skin hot, flushed, and dry. This is in contrast to heat prostration, a related condition, in which the skin is cold and clammy. These individuals lack salt and water.

Heat stroke is serious and can be fatal unless the victims are cooled off. The brain, heart, kidneys, and liver may be damaged by the fever. Heroic emergency measures are needed and at once.

Mild heat stroke responds usually to resting in a cool place with adeguate circulation of fresh air and the removal of most of the clothing. This is effective only when the victim is seen early and the condition is suspected because of the flushed appearance.

But, in most instances, the first clew occurs when the person collapses after being out on a scorching day more so when the humidity is high. The most useful remedy at this time is immersion in ice water. This may sound drastic but there is no effective substitute.

The victim is placed in a tub of cold water and pieces of ice are added until the rectal temperature falls below 103° F. Ice water sponge baths, rubbing with ice, wet sheets, and electric fans are less effective than the ice bath. The physician should be called because of the serious nature of this disease.

FENCING OFF POLLEN

M. O. writes: Why is it that my hay fever is better when I stay in my own back yard?

REPLY

Your residence may be sheltered by trees or by a certain type of high fence that decreases wind velocity, thus reducing the amount of pollen reaching your respiratory tract.

DON'T OVERHEAT

M. B. writes: Must a person with high blood pressure stay out of the sun?

REPLY

No, but he should avoid overexposure because high blood pressure does not go well with heat exhaustion or heat stroke.

NO SECONDS

W. S. writes: Eight years ago I had my female organs removed. Is is possible to have them replaced?

REPLY

No. This is the price you have paid for remaining alive and free of distress.

LATE WALKER

Mrs. B. R. writes: My first child started walking at 9 months but the second, now 15 months old, has not started. Do you think it is because he has flat feet?

REPLY

Most children, before they start walking, appear to have flat feet. But since youngsters usually start walking before 15 months, why not get firsthand information on your child's physical and mental progress, along with the condition of his feet?

TOMORROW: The hepatitis pattern.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Alan King hurt his knee backstage at a benefit performance recently. He swears he didn't make a sound when he fell—but a lawyer way out in the lobby heard him and rushed backstage to offer his services. "We'll sue the theatre owners for a hundred thousand dollars," he proposed. "That seems like a lot for just a bump on my knee," answered King. "What's your fee going to be?" "It's like this, Mr. King," answered the lawyer. "If we lose, I won't get a cent. And if we win—you won't get a cent."

A wife who was not unskilled at hen-pecking her husband wound up one evening's outburst with this classic: "And don't think for a minute, you little worm, that I didn't see you huddling there with your hands in your pockets making fists at me!"

John Isard, manager of the swanky Stanhope Hotel, received this plea recently from a lady in Texas: "The laundry down here has lost all the towels we took from your hotel. Can you please replace them?"

Little Tillie Expresso had the prize excuse of the week for being late to school: "I guess I overwashed."

Local Boys Are Sentenced In Two Automobile Thefts

Two local teenage boys, who led City Police on a dangerous chase in a stolen automobile and narrowly escaped injury when they wrecked the vehicle in West Virginia yesterday morning, were tried in Juvenile Court yesterday in connection with the theft and a similar one occurring July 17.

Juvenile Court Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin sentenced a 16 and a 14-year-old boy to terms at the Maryland Training School and Boys' Village, Cheltenham, respectively.

The boys were to have appeared in Juvenile Court today for a disposition in the theft of an automobile and rifle belonging to Mrs. Rose M. Williams, 751 Kelly Boulevard, earlier this month.

Five Cumberland Police officers, Ridgeley Mayor Charles Fryer, Cpl. F. W. Armstrong and Trooper Robert B. Noechel of the West Virginia State Police had a hand in yesterday's case as the boys defied flashing red lights and sirens of City Police cruisers in their spree.

The cruiser of City Police Lt. Donald H. Smith and Officer Harold E. Gibson was nearly struck by the vehicle as they patrolled Oldtown Road at 2:30 a. m. yesterday. They immediately gave pursuit and cornered the car off Gay Street. But the young driver turned around and sped north on Wineow Street toward the A&P Market. Police attempted to stop the youngsters at Kearney and Wineow streets, but the car turned again and headed south.

The two officers radioed to Officer Glen Voils in another patrol car to be on lookout. Officer Voils joined the pursuit as the car headed for Virginia Avenue and into Wiley Ford. The West Virginia State Police were alerted.

Both local police cars stayed at a safe distance as the car sped south on Route 28, forcing other automobiles off the road. They soon came upon the wrecked vehicle outside Short Gap and the highway area was searched for the occupants, who had fled.

On suspicion, Detective Harry Iser, who had arrived in a third car about five minutes after the accident, called out names of younsters he thought the two to be, and urged them to give themselves up. They were arrested and brought to Ridgeley where Mayor Fryer was contacted because of West Virginia jurisdiction.

A check with FBI was made as to arrest procedure, and meanwhile the boys were returned to the accident scene where West Virginia State Police were soon to arrive.

The 14-year-old later was told to go home and the 16-year-old was lodged in Ridgeley jail. The younger boy walked back to Cumberland, police said, and was arrested on Greene Street by Lt. Smith, Gibson and Iser at 4:50 a. m. Sgt. John Daum took him to juvenile quarters.

The auto the boys were driving was not reported missing until 3 a. m. yesterday by Clarence Jones of 1312 Kentucky Avenue, who said he parked it in the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company parking lot at 10:30 p. m. when he went to work.

Potato Leafhoppers Are Increasing Here

Populations of the potato leafhopper continue to increase in Allegany County and other sections of Maryland and damage, that is yellowing of the foliage, is common in many untreated fields.

Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, said methoxychlor should be used for leafhoppers and it should also help to reduce plant bugs, grasshoppers, flea beetles, alfalfa caterpillars and green cloverworms.

Freight Car Entered

City Police detectives said a box car parked on the Western Maryland Railway behind the A&P Supermarket was broken into over the weekend. Bernard V. McGreevy, 8-10 State Street, who made the complaint, said a delivery truck parked nearby was also entered. No report of stolen items, if any, was available.

Radio Stolen

Joseph E. Simpson, 555 North Mechanic Street, reported to local police Monday that a transistor radio belonging to him was stolen Sunday night from the Virginia Avenue switchmen's box.

Local Boys Are Sentenced In Two Automobile Thefts

Two local teenage boys, who led City Police on a dangerous chase in a stolen automobile and narrowly escaped injury when they wrecked the vehicle in West Virginia yesterday morning, were tried in Juvenile Court yesterday in connection with the theft and a similar one occurring July 17.

Juvenile Court Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin sentenced a 16 and a 14-year-old boy to terms at the Maryland Training School and Boys' Village, Cheltenham, respectively.

The boys were to have appeared in Juvenile Court today for a disposition in the theft of an automobile and rifle belonging to Mrs. Rose M. Williams, 751 Kelly Boulevard, earlier this month.

Five Cumberland Police officers, Ridgeley Mayor Charles Fryer, Cpl. F. W. Armstrong and Trooper Robert B. Noechel of the West Virginia State Police had a hand in yesterday's case as the boys defied flashing red lights and sirens of City Police cruisers in their spree.

The cruiser of City Police Lt. Donald H. Smith and Officer Harold E. Gibson was nearly struck by the vehicle as they patrolled Oldtown Road at 2:30 a. m. yesterday. They immediately gave pursuit and cornered the car off Gay Street. But the young driver turned around and sped north on Wineow Street toward the A&P Market. Police attempted to stop the youngsters at Kearney and Wineow streets, but the car turned again and headed south.

The two officers radioed to Officer Glen Voils in another patrol car to be on lookout. Officer Voils joined the pursuit as the car headed for Virginia Avenue and into Wiley Ford. The West Virginia State Police were alerted.

Both local police cars stayed at a safe distance as the car sped south on Route 28, forcing other automobiles off the road. They soon came upon the wrecked vehicle outside Short Gap and the highway area was searched for the occupants, who had fled.

On suspicion, Detective Harry Iser, who had arrived in a third car about five minutes after the accident, called out names of younsters he thought the two to be, and urged them to give themselves up. They were arrested and brought to Ridgeley where Mayor Fryer was contacted because of West Virginia jurisdiction.

A check with FBI was made as to arrest procedure, and meanwhile the boys were returned to the accident scene where West Virginia State Police were soon to arrive.

The 14-year-old later was told to go home and the 16-year-old was lodged in Ridgeley jail. The younger boy walked back to Cumberland, police said, and was arrested on Greene Street by Lt. Smith, Gibson and Iser at 4:50 a. m. Sgt. John Daum took him to juvenile quarters.

The auto the boys were driving was not reported missing until 3 a. m. yesterday by Clarence Jones of 1312 Kentucky Avenue, who said he parked it in the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company parking lot at 10:30 p. m. when he went to work.

Potato Leafhoppers Are Increasing Here

Populations of the potato leafhopper continue to increase in Allegany County and other sections of Maryland and damage, that is yellowing of the foliage, is common in many untreated fields.

Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent, said methoxychlor should be used for leafhoppers and it should also help to reduce plant bugs, grasshoppers, flea beetles, alfalfa caterpillars and green cloverworms.

Freight Car Entered

City Police detectives said a box car parked on the Western Maryland Railway behind the A&P Supermarket was broken into over the weekend. Bernard V. McGreevy, 8-10 State Street, who made the complaint, said a delivery truck parked nearby was also entered. No report of stolen items, if any, was available.

Radio Stolen

Joseph E. Simpson, 555 North Mechanic Street, reported to local police Monday that a transistor radio belonging to him was stolen Sunday night from the Virginia Avenue switchmen's box.

Tips To Dad On Outdoor Cookery

A sirloin steak grilled over the coals is enough to make all mouths water in anticipation. But it isn't the woman of the household who usually prepares this feast. It's Dad.

Here are a few tips to pass on to the man who enjoys being head chef of the outdoor grill.

Remember when choosing meats to select tender cuts that can be cooked by dry heat. Steaks are perhaps most popular . . . rib, club, porterhouse, T-bone and sirloin. However, there are many other suitable cuts: ham slices, ground beef and lamb, lamb chops and frankfurters are all adaptable to outdoor cookery. Steaks should be at least 1 inch thick, ham slices and lamb chops ¾ inch.

Be sure to start the fire far enough in advance. A common method is to lay charcoal briquets in a pyramid. Use charcoal lighter fluid for beginning the fire.

Allow the fire to burn until a fine white ash forms on the coals, indicating that cooking heat has been reached.

Then arrange the coals so they are only one briquet deep.

To prevent the meat from sticking, rub the grill with fat before cooking is started. Fat trimmed from the meat may be used for this purpose. You may make several slits in the fat around the edge of steaks to prevent them from curling during broiling; but be careful not to cut into the lean and allow juice to be lost.

Because the broiling temperature should be low to moderate, place 1 inch thick meats 2 to 3 inches from the heat, 2-inch meats 3 to 5 inches from the heat.

Broiled meats should be seasoned after browning and they should be turned only once. For turning, use tongs or a fork inserted in the fat edge to preserve the meat juices. Follow a reliable timetable to determine the cooking time for the type of meat you are broiling.

Poached Bass

4 fresh water bass (1 pound each)
12 ounces (bottle or can) beer or ale
Juice of 1 lemon
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon whole black peppers
1 bay leaf
½ cup sliced scallions
Few sprigs parsley
1 small carrot, sliced

Scale fish with dull knife or scaler at 45° angle. Place point of sharp knife at skin on underside of fish and split from tail to gills. Remove viscera, wash away any blood and scrape back bone area clean. If a black membrane is present, remove by rubbing with salt or a brush. Remove head at base of gills. In large skillet, combine beer, lemon juice, salt, peppers, bay leaf, scallion, parsley and carrot. Bring to a boil and simmer 10 minutes. Add bass. Week's Food Economies

Seasonal produce will provide shoppers with the best buys in both quality and price. Make the most of foods that make tasty meals typical of summertime eating, says Virginia L. McLuckie, food economist, in the Baltimore Office of the Department of Markets, University of Maryland.

Two of the produce buys you will want to take advantage of are sweet corn and summer squash. August is the peak month for fresh sweet corn from Maryland and nearby states. When you shop for sweet corn, buy from retailers who display corn on refrigerated or iced counters. Low temperatures help corn to retain its sweetness. At room or summer day temperatures corn will lose 50 per cent of its sugar or sweetness with 24 hours. This means the sugar has turned to starch and the corn is tough and less sweet in flavor. Look for corn with a bright green glossy husk, dark brown silks and well filled plump kernels. Hurry sweet corn home from the market and use it immediately. If you must hold it, store in the refrigerator in the husk until just before you cook it. Short cooking continues the sweet corn quality chain one step further. Cook from five to six minutes, testing with a fork. Corn is done when the milk is set and the kernels will slip from the hull when pricked with a fork. The longer it cooks the tougher it becomes.

Fruits on the best buy list are watermelon, blueberries and plums. Liberal supplies of plums are arriving from California and prices are generally reasonable. The popular varieties now available are Santa Rosa, Eldorado and Duarte. The Santa Rosa is a purplish-crimson color and is excellent for stewing and eating out of hand. The Eldorado is a darker purple and slightly larger with a pleasingly tart flavor. The softening of the tip end is generally a good indication of ripeness. Ripe plums should be kept in the refrigerator and used within a day or two.

Other recommended buys are chicken, fresh pork shoulders and picnics or smoked shoulder.

According to Japanese legend, Fujiyama, the "matchless mountain," which is held sacred, rose from the earth in a single night.

Tips To Dad On Outdoor Cookery

A sirloin steak grilled over the coals is enough to make all mouths water in anticipation. But it isn't the woman of the household who usually prepares this feast. It's Dad.

Here are a few tips to pass on to the man who enjoys being head chef of the outdoor grill.

Remember when choosing meats to select tender cuts that can be cooked by dry heat. Steaks are perhaps most popular . . . rib, club, porterhouse, T-bone and sirloin. However, there are many other suitable cuts: ham slices, ground beef and lamb, lamb chops and frankfurters are all adaptable to outdoor cookery. Steaks should be at least 1 inch thick, ham slices and lamb chops ¾ inch.

Be sure to start the fire far enough in advance. A common method is to lay charcoal briquets in a pyramid. Use charcoal lighter fluid for beginning the fire.

Allow the fire to burn until a fine white ash forms on the coals, indicating that cooking heat has been reached.

Then arrange the coals so they are only one briquet deep.

To prevent the meat from sticking, rub the grill with fat before cooking is started. Fat trimmed from the meat may be used for this purpose. You may make several slits in the fat around the edge of steaks to prevent them from curling during broiling; but be careful not to cut into the lean and allow juice to be lost.

Because the broiling temperature should be low to moderate, place 1 inch thick meats 2 to 3 inches from the heat, 2-inch meats 3 to 5 inches from the heat.

Broiled meats should be seasoned after browning and they should be turned only once. For turning, use tongs or a fork inserted in the fat edge to preserve the meat juices. Follow a reliable timetable to determine the cooking time for the type of meat you are broiling.

Poached Bass

4 fresh water bass (1 pound each)
12 ounces (bottle or can) beer or ale
Juice of 1 lemon
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon whole black peppers
1 bay leaf
½ cup sliced scallions
Few sprigs parsley
1 small carrot, sliced

Scale fish with dull knife or scaler at 45° angle. Place point of sharp knife at skin on underside of fish and split from tail to gills. Remove viscera, wash away any blood and scrape back bone area clean. If a black membrane is present, remove by rubbing with salt or a brush. Remove head at base of gills. In large skillet, combine beer, lemon juice, salt, peppers, bay leaf, scallion, parsley and carrot. Bring to a boil and simmer 10 minutes. Add bass. Cover and simmer 8 to 10 minutes or until fish is easily flaked with fork.

YIELD: 4 servings.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Corn and soybean futures ended lower while other grains were steady to firm Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to up ⅝; corn off ½ to 1⅜; oats off ¼ to up ⅛; rye unchanged to up ½; and soybeans off 1⅞ to 2⅝.

Buying by exporters and flour mills absorbed hedge selling in wheat and prices firmed.

Soybeans lost more than 2 cents a bushel on commission selling based on favorable crop and weather reports.

Corn succumbed to liquidating pressure on improved crop prospects and a forecast for showers.

Oats steadied as elevator houses sold September deliveries and commission and cash houses bought. Rye firmed in slow trade.

Final Hour About-Face Halts Market's Climb

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks continued Tuesday's advance at a good clip Wednesday until the bubble burst in the final hour and prices tumbled.

Dow-Jones industrial average finished with a loss of 0.99 to 695.43 after showing a gain of 3.00 at 2 PM.. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index slipped 0.11 to 69.13.

Trading swelled to 3,960,000 shares compared with the 3,550,000 shares which changed hands Tuesday. Of the 1,275 issues traded, 504 advanced, 39 to new 1963 highs and 487 declined, 21 to new lows.

Brokers attributed most of the decline to profit taking on the gains established during the advances of the past three sessions.

Sperry Rand topped the market in activity, dipping ⅛ to 15 on a turnover of 99,500 shares. It was followed in activity by Chrysler off 2¼; Control Data up ⅝, Brunswick off ¼ and Polaroid off 5⅜.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Corn and soybean futures ended lower while other grains were steady to firm Wednesday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the final bell, wheat was unchanged to up ⅜; corn off ½ to 1⅜; oats off ¼ to up ⅛; rye unchanged to up ½; and soybeans off 1⅞ to 2⅝.

Buying by exporters and flour mills absorbed hedge selling in wheat and prices firmed.

Soybeans lost more than 2 cents a bushel on commission selling based on favorable crop and weather reports.

Corn succumbed to liquidating pressure on improved crop prospects and a forecast for showers.

Oats steadied as elevator houses sold September deliveries and commission and cash houses bought. Rye firmed in slow trade.

Final Hour About-Face Halts Market's Climb

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks continued Tuesday's advance at a good clip Wednesday until the bubble burst in the final hour and prices tumbled.

Dow-Jones industrial average finished with a loss of 0.99 to 695.43 after showing a gain of 3.00 at 2 PM.. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index slipped 0.11 to 69.13.

Trading swelled to 3,960,000 shares compared with the 3,550,000 shares which changed hands Tuesday. Of the 1,275 issues traded, 504 advanced, 39 to new 1963 highs and 487 declined, 21 to new lows.

Brokers attributed most of the decline to profit taking on the gains established during the advances of the past three sessions.

Sperry Rand topped the market in activity, dipping ⅛ to 15 on a turnover of 99,500 shares. It was followed in activity by Chrysler off 2¼; Control Data up ⅝, Brunswick off ¼ and Polaroid off 5⅝.

Phillies Snap Giants' Streak At Nine, 7-3

Callison Smashes Homer In 14th

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Johnny Callison crashed a two-run homer in the 14th inning after pitcher Bob Bolin let in two runs on a throwing error as Philadelphia stopped San Francisco's nine-game winning streak with a 7-3 victory.

The Phils had fought from behind with two runs in the ninth against 17-game winner Juan Marichal and rode through extra innings on the strong relief of Jack Baldschun.

Bob Oldis led off the 14th with a single and Don Hoak was safe on catcher Ed Bailey's interference when he bunted. Oldis made it to second when Bolin's throw was late.

Earl Averill bounced to the pitcher, but Bolin threw the ball 10 feet over third base, Oldis and Hoak scoring. With two out, Callison homered over the right field fence. All the runs were unearned.

Orioles Nip Tigers, 2-1

Barber Outduels Lary, Wins 14th

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles continued their mastery of the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night as Steve Barber won his 14th game, outpitching Frank Lary for a 2-1 victory.

The victory gave Baltimore a sweep of the three-game series and 10 out of 12 against Detroit over-all.

All the runs were scored in the first inning, with the run off Barber unearned.

Don Wert walked to open the game, went to second when Russ Snyder dropped a fly ball, moved to third as Al Kaline grounded into a double play and scored on Rocky Colavito's broken-bat single.

Lary, pitching one of his best games since being recalled from Knoxville of the South Atlantic League, allowed three of his five hits in the opening inning.

Singles by Luis Aparicio and Snyder and a walk to Boog Powell loaded the bases with none out. One run scored when Jim Gentile hit into a force play, and the tie-breaker came across on a single by Al Smith.

Old Gees, Exports Score Rec Wins

League-leading Old Germans nipped the Sports Shoppe 3-2 at Post Field, and runnerup Old Exports turned back the Pepsi-Colas 9-7 at Fort Hill Field in Rec Softball League action yesterday.

Denny Knippenberg pitched a six-hitter and helped the Old Germans at the plate with a double. Pete Robb collected a pair of hits for the Old Gees, who scored their 12th win in 17 games.

Hank Page and Jamie Taylor both homered and doubled for the Old Exports, while Vernon Shrout and Bud Clark rapped a two-bagger and single apiece for the Pepsis.

Rozelle Lays Down Law On Gambling To NFLers

Warns Betting Could Result In Ban For Lifetime

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Pete Rozelle, the timid - appearing, tough-acting commissioner of the National Football League, is laying down the law on gambling to his 1963 gridders.

And this time the boys are listening.

In the wake of the ban on Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions and Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers for betting on their own teams to win, there is an unrest among the players. And Rozelle is taking advantage of it to install in the minds of those who might want to bet that they could be banned for life.

"I just explain to them that if they gamble on the outcome of the games, even when betting on their own team, they could get into trouble," says Rozelle, as he visits training camps. "Even betting on their own team, they could lose, run into debt, and the next thing they know they may be betting the other way."

Hornung and Karras are suspended for 1963—and possibly forever.

"They have been promised a hearing before the 1964 season," says Rozelle. "Nothing more. It all depends upon how they act between now and the hearing."

Mt. Savage kept its hold on first place in the Pen-Mar Baseball League with a 3-1 victory over Hyndman on its home diamond, and Cumberland moved into third place ahead of Lonaconing by edging the Independents, 5-4, in nine innings at Municipal Field.

Frostburg and Barrelville battled to a 2-2 tie at the latter place. The game was halted by darkness at the end of seven complete innings.

Rich Lybarger's two-run triple highlighted the third inning for Mt. Savage and propelled Bobby Dawson to his fourth league win in seven starts. Lybarger also had a single, while Barclay hit a double and single, and Gene Stair collected a pair of singles for Hyndman.

Cumberland's Hermans scored two runs in the bottom of the ninth to overcome a one-run lead taken by Coney in the top of the second extra frame. Jan Withrow plated the tying tally with a sacrifice fly and Howard Reynolds' single brought in the deciding run.

Cleveland Sweeps Pair From Angels

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians hit seven home runs Wednesday night, setting an American League record and tying a major league mark with four in a row, as they defeated Los Angeles 1-0 and 9-5 in a twi-night doubleheader.

Fred Whitfield slammed one in each game, the winner in the eighth inning of the opener and a grand slam in the nightcap.

Pitcher Pete Ramos, winner of the second game as he struck out 15 for the AL's season high, also hit two homers. The Cuban right-hander was tagged for 11 hits and finally was replaced by Gary Bell with one out and two on in the ninth.

Phillies Snap Giants' Streak At Nine, 7-3

Callison Smashes Homer In 14th

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Johnny Callison crashed a two-run homer in the 14th inning after pitcher Bob Bolin let in two runs on a throwing error as Philadelphia stopped San Francisco's nine-game winning streak with a 7-3 victory.

The Phils had fought from behind with two runs in the ninth against 17-game winner Juan Marichal and rode through extra innings on the strong relief of Jack Baldschun.

Bob Oldis led off the 14th with a single and Don Hoak was safe on catcher Ed Bailey's interference when he bunted. Oldis made it to second when Bolin's throw was late.

Earl Averill bounced to the pitcher, but Bolin threw the ball 10 feet over third base, Oldis and Hoak scoring. With two out, Callison homered over the right field fence. All the runs were unearned.

Orioles Nip Tigers, 2-1

Barber Outduels Lary, Wins 14th

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles continued their mastery of the Detroit Tigers Wednesday night as Steve Barber won his 14th game, outpitching Frank Lary for a 2-1 victory.

The victory gave Baltimore a sweep of the three-game series and 10 out of 12 against Detroit over-all.

All the runs were scored in the first inning, with the run off Barber unearned.

Don Wert walked to open the game, went to second when Russ Snyder dropped a fly ball, moved to third as Al Kaline grounded into a double play and scored on Rocky Colavito's broken-bat single.

Lary, pitching one of his best games since being recalled from Knoxville of the South Atlantic League, allowed three of his five hits in the opening inning.

Singles by Luis Aparicio and Snyder and a walk to Boog Powell loaded the bases with none out. One run scored when Jim Gentile hit into a force play, and the tie-breaker came across on a single by Al Smith.

Rozelle Lays Down Law On Gambling To NFLers

Warns Betting Could Result In Ban For Lifetime

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Pete Rozelle, the timid - appearing, tough-acting commissioner of the National Football League, is laying down the law on gambling to his 1963 gridders.

And this time the boys are listening.

In the wake of the ban on Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions and Paul Hornung of the Green Bay Packers for betting on their own teams to win, there is an unrest among the players. And Rozelle is taking advantage of it to install in the minds of those who might want to bet that they could be banned for life.

"I just explain to them that if they gamble on the outcome of the games, even when betting on their own team, they could get into trouble," says Rozelle, as he visits training camps. "Even betting on their own team, they could lose, run into debt, and the next thing they know they may be betting the other way."

Hornung and Karras are suspended for 1963—and possibly forever.

"They have been promised a hearing before the 1964 season," says Rozelle. "Nothing more. It all depends upon how they act between now and the hearing."

Mt. Savage kept its hold on first place in the Pen-Mar Baseball League with a 3-1 victory over Hyndman on its home diamond, and Cumberland moved into third place ahead of Lonaconing by edging the Independents, 5-4, in nine innings at Municipal Field.

Frostburg and Barrelville battled to a 2-2 tie at the latter place. The game was halted by darkness at the end of seven complete innings.

Rich Lybarger's two-run triple highlighted the third inning for Mt. Savage and propelled Bobby Dawson to his fourth league win in seven starts. Lybarger also had a single, while Barclay hit a double and single, and Gene Stair collected a pair of singles for Hyndman.

Cumberland's Hermans scored two runs in the bottom of the ninth to overcome a one-run lead taken by Coney in the top of the second extra frame. Jan Withrow plated the tying tally with a sacrifice fly and Howard Reynolds' single brought in the deciding run.

Cleveland Sweeps Pair From Angels

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians hit seven home runs Wednesday night, setting an American League record and tying a major league mark with four in a row, as they defeated Los Angeles 1-0 and 9-5 in a twi-night doubleheader.

Fred Whitfield slammed one in each game, the winner in the eighth inning of the opener and a grand slam in the nightcap.

Pitcher Pete Ramos, winner of the second game as he struck out 15 for the AL's season high, also hit two homers. The Cuban right-hander was tagged for 11 hits and finally was replaced by Gary Bell with one out and two on in the ninth.

Yankees Edge KC On Tresh's Homer In 9th

Terry Cops 12th In 3-2 Triumph

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Tresh smashed a home run with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning to give the New York Yankees a 3-2 victory Wednesday and the rubber of their three game series witht he Kansas City Athletics.

Ted Bowsfield, a left - hander, was on the mound for the Athletics. He had replaced starter Diego Segui in the sixth inning and had held the Yankees scoreless until Tresh's game-winning blow.

The Yankees gave the right-hander a 2-0 lead after four innings but the A's tied the score at 2-2 in the seventh. Jerry Lumoe singled and raced to third on Norm Siebern's double. Both scored on back-to-back sacrifice flies by Charlie Lau and Ed Charles.

Twins Outslug Red Sox, 9-5

Bill Pleis Checks Boston In Relief

BOSTON (AP) — Minnesota backed up a fine relief effort by Bill Pleis with a five-run outburst in the seventh inning and grabbed a 9-5 decision over Boston Wednesday.

Pleis took over for Bob Stange in the fourth after the Red Sox had gone ahead 4-3. The 24-year-old left-hander held Boston to three hits the rest of the way, running his record to 3-1.

The Twins pretty much followed Tuesday night's script, scoring five runs in one inning for the second straight game.

Outdoor And Lions Win Hots Battles

The race for the championship of the Hots division of the Hot Stove Baseball League will go right down to the final game. That was assured last night, as Outdoor Club whipped the Elks, 13-6, at Mason Road Field, and the Lions blanked Kiwanis, 4-0, at Penn Avenue Field.

In the nightcap of the Penn Avenue doubleheader, Salvation Army edged Bedford Road Optimists, 3-2, in nine innings.

Outdoor Club's record now stands at 14-7, and the Lions have 13-8 mark. They'll meet next Wednesday in the final game of the season for both teams. Outdoor can sew up the crown by winning, but a Lions victory would force a playoff for the title.

Yankees Edge KC On Tresh's Homer In 9th

Terry Cops 12th In 3-2 Triumph

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Tresh smashed a home run with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning to give the New York Yankees a 3-2 victory Wednesday and the rubber of their three game series witht he Kansas City Athletics.

Ted Bowsfield, a left - hander, was on the mound for the Athletics. He had replaced starter Diego Segui in the sixth inning and had held the Yankees scoreless until Tresh's game-winning blow.

The Yankees gave the right-hander a 2-0 lead after four innings but the A's tied the score at 2-2 in the seventh. Jerry Lumoe singled and raced to third on Norm Siebern's double. Both scored on back-to-back sacrifice flies by Charlie Lau and Ed Charles.

Twins Outslug Red Sox, 9-5

Bill Pleis Checks Boston In Relief

BOSTON (AP) — Minnesota backed up a fine relief effort by Bill Pleis with a five-run outburst in the seventh inning and grabbed a 9-5 decision over Boston Wednesday.

Pleis took over for Bob Stange in the fourth after the Red Sox had gone ahead 4-3. The 24-year-old left-hander held Boston to three hits the rest of the way, running his record to 3-1.

The Twins pretty much followed Tuesday night's script, scoring five runs in one inning for the second straight game.

Outdoor And Lions Win Hots Battles

The race for the championship of the Hots division of the Hot Stove Baseball League will go right down to the final game. That was assured last night, as Outdoor Club whipped the Elks, 13-6, at Mason Road Field, and the Lions blanked Kiwanis, 4-0, at Penn Avenue Field.

In the nightcap of the Penn Avenue doubleheader, Salvation Army edged Bedford Road Optimists, 3-2, in nine innings.

Outdoor Club's record now stands at 14-7, and the Lions have 13-8 mark. They'll meet next Wednesday in the final game of the season for both teams. Outdoor can sew up the crown by winning, but a Lions victory would force a playoff for the title.

The linescores:

AT MASON ROAD FIELD:

Outdoor Club	103 142 2—13 9 3
Elks	240 000 0— 6 8 3

U.S. Trackmen Lead Germany By 22 Points

Hayes Accounts For Two Wins

HANNOVER, Germany (UPI)—Bob Hayes, the "world's fastest human," racked up another 100-meter triumph and then stormed from behind on the anchor leg to win the 400-meter relay Wednesday as the U.S. men's track and field team took a first-day 64-42 lead over West Germany.

The U.S. squad, competing with a reshuffled lineup, won eight out of 10 events under overcast skies at Niedersachsen Stadium. And two of the biggest victories were scored by athletes who changed to new events—by Tom O'Hara in the 800 meters and Henry Carr in the 400.

But Hayes was the top star of the day as his flying feet accounted for two of the American wins.

First the Florida A. and M. speedster rocketed in front all the way to win the 100-meter dash in 10.2 seconds, exactly the same time he posted in winning this event at the earlier meets in Moscow and Warsaw.

And in the day's concluding event, the 400-meter relay, Hayes took the baton three meters behind, caught West German anchor man Alfred Hebauf halfway through the leg, and hit the tape three meters in front of Hebauf for a team clocking of 39.7 seconds.

O'Hara, the 20-year-old Loyola of Chicago star who was runner-up in the 1,500-meter runs in the first two meets, moved down to the 800 meters and defeated Jim Dupree of Los Angeles, America's top-ranked half-miler, in 1:49.3.

Carr, of Phoenix, Ariz., winner at 200 meters in Moscow and Warsaw, moved up to 400 meters and won in 45.4 seconds, only a half-second over the world record set by America's Otis Davis in the 1960 Olympics.

Other U.S. Winners were Hayes Jones of Detroit in the 110-meter hurdles in 13.6 seconds, Bob Humphreys of Los Angeles in the discus throw with 186 feet, 3¾ inches, John Pennel of Northeast Louisiana State in the pole vault with 16 feet, 4⅞ inches, and Ralph Boston of Los Angeles in the broad jump with 25 feet, 11¾ inches.

SINCE 1955, Henry (Hank) Aaron has played 151 or more games every season with the Milwaukee Braves.

Art Mahaffey Lost To Phillies For 4-8 Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Pitcher Art Mahaffey of the Philadelphia Phils headed home Wednesday with his right ankle in a cast.

He suffered a dislocated peroneal tendon Tuesday night in a freak accident that his doctor says will keep him out of action four to eight weeks.

Mahaffey came on in the seventh inning Tuesday night to face the San Francisco Giants' Harvey Kuenn. But he never got off a pitch.

Instead, his spikes caught in the rubber and he collapsed in pain. He was carried off the field in a stretcher and taken to Children's Hospital, but released after treatment. X-rays showed there was no fracture.

Dr. Kirklin Ashley, who treated him, said Mahaffey won't be able to pitch for four to eight weeks.

Rotary Downs Elks, Frostburg Race Tied

The Rotary downed the Elks, 12-8, yesterday to move into a tie with the latter club for first place in the Frostburg Little League. The outcome left both teams with 9-4 records.

Frankie Cook was he hitting star for Rotary with a pair of homers and a single, and Billy Carder contributed a triple, double and single to the 17-hit attack. Tommy Langan had a pair of singles for the Elks.

The linescore:

Rotary	250 302—12 17 5
Elks	000 800— 8 7 7

Ricky Kerr, Billy Patterson (4) and Billy Kopple, Slug Armstrong, Pat Evans (4), Tommy Langan (5) and Billy Seib. WP—Kerr. LP—Armstrong. HR—Frankie Cook 2 (Rotary).

Unitas Throwing At Full Speed Again

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — With quarterback John Unitas throwing at full speed again, the Baltimore Colts worked on pass offense Wednesday at their National Football League training camp.

Resting a sore shoulder, which trainer Ed Block diagnosed as tired muscles, Unitas had not done any throwing the past two days.

But Unitas was back in form for Wednesday's afternoon practice, throwing long and hard. Lenny Moore, running as a man-in-motion from his tight halfback position, was on the receiving end of several downfield passes.

Tackling was prohibited, but heavy blocking was permitted during the morning workout which stressed ground plays.

Black, Involved In Lipscomb's Death, Acquitted

BALTIMORE (AP) — Timothy N. Black, in whose apartment pro football star Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb was found dying of an overdose of heroin last May 10, was acquitted Wednesday of a charge of possessing narcotics equipment.

Criminal Court Judge James K. Cullen handed down the verdict after defense and prosecuting attorneys agreed there was "a legislative gap" in the law under which Black, 25, was charged.

In amending Maryland's narcotics laws last winter to increase the penalties for certain offenses, they said the Legislature inadvertently omitted any penalty for possession of narcotics paraphernalia.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Pfc. Roy E. (Butch) Robertson, who was killed in Germany one year ago today, August 1, 1962.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought his death so near.
Only those who have lost can tell,
The pain of parting without farewell.
He little thought when leaving home,
That he would never return.
That he so soon in death would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
God knows how much we miss him,
Never shall his memory fade,
Loving thoughts shall ever wander,
To the spot where he is laid.
Sadly missed by
Rosalee & Betty

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Pfc. Roy E. (Butch) Robertson, who was killed in Germany one year ago today, August 1, 1962.

The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought his death so near.
Only those who have lost can tell,
The pain of parting without farewell.
He little thought when leaving home,
That he would never return.
That he so soon in death would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
God knows how much we miss him,
Never shall his memory fade,
Loving thoughts shall ever wander,
To the spot where he is laid.

Sadly missed by
Rosalee & Betty

7-Business Opportunities

SPACE AGE
DISTRIBUTORSHIP

Outstanding opportunity with rapidly expanding company allows you to quickly establish your own business in the booming micro-electronic field without technical training or an engineering degree. You will handle the largest consolidated line of small precision tools and production aids in your own exclusive area supplying a virtual captive market. Those selected receive our complete merchandising program and step by step field assistance, and inherit established accounts of our subsidiary companies. Profits are substantial and based on a strong continuity of orders. The required investment is $2500 to $5000 depending on the area desired. This is one of the last remaining areas in the United States. All financially qualified individuals will be given consideration on a first come basis only while the area is open. For complete particulars phone D. Howard PA 2-2400 extension 634. Cumberland, Md. or write to Micronics Corp. of America 8116 Old York Road, Elkins Park, Pa.

PARADOXICAL?

A good time to buy! A good time to sell! The real estate atmosphere in the Tri-State Area definitely favors the prospective buyer — he can choose from many new and used homes, all at very favorable prices. YET-because there are so many "ready and willing" buyers, it is also a good time to sell—provided the seller is willing to offer and/or accept a "fair" market value for his property. The old economical equation of supply and demand is slowly re-balancing the area's Real Estate Scale. Let us list your property or help you find a home—NOW—and receive dollar for dollar value whether buying or selling!

PARADOXICAL?

A good time to buy! A good time to sell! The real estate atmosphere in the Tri-State Area definitely favors the prospective buyer — he can choose from many new and used homes, all at very favorable prices. YET-because there are so many "ready and willing" buyers, it is also a good time to sell—provided the seller is willing to offer and/or accept a "fair" market value for his property. The old economical equation of supply and demand is slowly re-balancing the area's Real Estate Scale. Let us list your property or help you find a home—NOW—and receive dollar for dollar value whether buying or selling!

Two Girls Hurt In Accident On Klondyke Road

Auto Crashes Into Tree

Two teen-age girls were hospitalized last night with injuries sustained when the car in which they were passengers rammed into a tree along Klondyke Road about a half mile west of Maryland Route 36.

Admitted to Miners Hospital in Frostburg and reported in "satisfactory" condition are June Lavonne Blank, 14, of Manassas, Va., and Lorraine Colmer, 15, of Pekin.

Authorities said the Blank girl suffered a possible fractured skull and a severe laceration of her scalp.

The Colmer girl was reported to have suffered multiple bruises and abrasions over most of her body, possible fractured left thumb and lacerations of her mouth, lip and chin.

The driver of the sedan, Mary Lou Morgan, 17, of Box 192, Frostburg, apparently was not injured.

Tfc. Robert C. Dishong said Miss Morgan was driving the sedan east on the Klondyke Road about 200 yards east of Winebrenner's Store when the car began to "shimmy" and went out of control.

The car careened to the right of the highway and rammed into the tree. The right front of the vehicle hit the tree. All three girls were riding in the front seat of the car.

The accident occurred at 7:20 p. m., police said.

Gets Distinguished Citizen Award

Retiring Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon, second from right, and Former Governor William Preston Lane Jr., right, look at a Distinguished Citizenship Award sent to Mr. Conlon by Governor Tawes and presented at a testimonial dinner in Mr. Conlon's honor last night at Ali Ghan Shrine Club. Also admiring the award are the new acting postmaster William B. Orndorff, left, and Andrew E. Newton, director of the Washington Regional Office, Post Office Department, speaker for the testimonial event sponsored by the postal employes. Mr. Conlon received gifts from the employes and former members of the Maryland State Guard. Mr. Orndorff will be officially installed in office Saturday morning in a public ceremony at the Court House. Mr. Conlon retires after serving the longest term of any postmaster in the history of the Cumberland Post Office.

Mrs. May Bolt Is Named To School Board

Gov. J. Millard Tawes yesterday announced the appointment of Mrs. May B. Bolt, Eckhart, to the Allegany County Board of Education, effective as of Tuesday.

Mrs. Bolt's appointment was made on the recommendation of the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee, which was compelled by law to nominate a woman for the position.

The postmaster at Eckhart for 19 years, Mrs. Bolt will serve on the Board of Education until 1964, completing the unexpired term of Mrs. Richard Winer. Mrs. Winer, named to a five-year term in 1959, resigned recently because of her husband's transfer to Wilmington, Del., by Hercules Powder Company.

Born in Eckhart, a daughter of Charles and Stella (Engle) Bruner, of there, Mrs. Bolt is the widow of W. Joseph Bolt.

A graduate of Beall High School in 1934, Mrs. Bolt has maintained an active interest in school work. She is a past president of the Parent-Teacher Association of Eckhart School, has served on the County PTA Council and also on the Maryland Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Mrs. Bolt has been a night student in business administration at Allegany Community College here for the past two years, and also completed an associated course in that line of study at Frostburg State College this year.

She is a member of Eckhart Methodist Church and has been a teacher in its church school for many years.

She has a son, William J. Bolt, who is a graduate of LaSalle High School and of the University of Notre Dame, class of 1962. He currently is serving with the Army at Fort Hood, Texas, as a second lieutenant in the infantry. Lt. Bolt recently married the former Miss Diana Meehan of Frostburg. She is a daughter of Col. and Mrs. Charles Meehan, now of Grove City, Pa. Col Meehan is a retired Army officer who now is teaching at Grove City College.

Serving with Mrs. Bolt on the School Board are J. Goodloe Jackson, president; T. Donald Shires, who succeeded Mrs. Winer as vice president; Kenneth R. Malcolm and Mrs. George M. Young.

Mr. Malcolm is the dean among the school board members, having served continuously since May 28, 1951. Mr. Jackson has been a member since June 23, 1955; Mr. Shires since May 17, 1960, and Mrs. Young since April 27, 1961.

Worker Hospitalized

A 30-year-old Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant employe was hospitalized yesterday with burns sustained in an accident while he was at work.

Edward C. Nave, National Highway, LaVale, was reported in "satisfactory" condition last night in Memorial Hospital, according to attaches who said he sustained burns on the upper part of his shoulder, left arm and right thigh.

Mr. Nave was admitted to the hospital about 5 p. m.

License Transferred

Nellie G. Boore was issued a Class D beer license yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for premises on Bedford Road. This was a transfer of the license on the same premises formerly held by John J. Cullen and Virginia B. Cullen, trading as JB Bar.

Smerling Takes Ohio Northern Registrar Post

Resigns Position At College Here

William H. Smerling, registrar of Allegany Community College since its establishment in the summer of 1961, has resigned to become registrar of Ohio Northern University at Ada, according to Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, president of the college here.

Mr. Smerling's resignation is effective today. He and his wife and two children had been living here at 709 Gephart Drive. They were members of the Presbyterian Church. While here he was serving as secretary of the Maryland Junior College Association.

Dr. Zimmer is interviewing applicants to fill the vacancy while attending the summer institute for junior college administrative teams this week in Daytona Beach, Fla.

A 1949 graduate of Northern Illinois University, Mr. Smerling obtained his master's degree at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and had done work toward his doctorate at the University of Chicago.

From 1957 until coming here in 1961, he served the junior college program in Chicago as registrar and director of placement.

Ohio Northern University is a Methodist-affiliated college which was established in 1871 and at last report had a student body of 1,872.

Local Dwelling Entry Tried

Earlier this week someone attempted to break into a local home, according to city police, who also reported they were notified of a case of vandalism.

Thomas Haythorn of 221 South Mechanic Street reported to police that he discovered an attempt to jimmy a lock on the front door although he didn't know when it had been done.

Mrs. William Goss, 1406 Virginia Avenue, reported that someone cut the inner lining of a portable pool she and her husband had purchased for their children. The pool had been placed near their home and was filled with water.

She told police a red stop sign had been carried from somewhere and thrown on the top cover, which was ripped. The damage occurred sometime after 10:30 p. m. Tuesday, said City Police Detective Captain James E. Van.

Local Couples Returning From Jewish Mission Tour

Dr. and Mrs. Jack E. Arch, 75 LaVale Court, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Schwab, LaVale, will leave Paris today for the U.S. following a three-week tour of Israel and Europe as members of the Young Leadership Mission of the United Jewish Appeal. The tour was headed by Herbert A. Friedman, UJA executive vice chairman.

The mission consisted of 100 young men and women selected by the UJA because of interest shown and work previously completed in rallying support for annual campaigns on behalf of Israel and of more than 275,000 needy Jews in other parts of the world. "Following their return, mission members will report on their findings and serve as key men in their communities for the 1964 UJA campaign," stated mission officials.

While in Paris, members of the mission were the guests of the American Joint Distribution Committee (JDC), primary agent for aiding needy Jews overseas, and studied at first hand the effects of the influx of North African Jews upon the French Jewish community. In less than two years this migration has increased the Jewish population of France by 45 per cent, and the major part of outside help received comes from JDC, which gets its funds from the United Jewish Appeal.

17-Year-Old Boy Kills Rattler In Front Yard

Strange antics of the family cat warned Thomas Strawderman, 17-year-old Valley Road boy, of the presence of a 48-inch rattlesnake which the youngster dispatched with a shotgun.

The rattlesnake was discovered in the front yard of the Strawderman home near a lilac bush. The cat jumped when she heard the rattler.

This snake had 13 buttons and a rattler. It was the second time Thomas had killed a rattlesnake. About two years ago young Strawderman killed his first rattler.

The Strawdermans live north of Pea Vine Run Road almost to the Pennsylvania line.

Scout Troop 13 Spends Week At Camp Potomac

Members of Troop 13, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by First Presbyterian Church, are home after attending summer camp at Camp Potomac, near Oldtown, last week.

Attending were Greg Foley, Pat Foley, James Kinsman, Donald Norris, Kyle Chinault, Darrell Hawkins, Jeff Hutter, Ricky Weisenmiller, Herb Dawson.

Donald Robinson, David Miller, Woodrow Doddrill, Larry Mosser, Terry McGee, Steve Day, Artie Witt, David Stein and James Stein Jr.

James McGee, scoutmaster, and Melvin Dean, assistant scoutmaster, also attended.

A Board of Review was conducted Friday night as a climax to the week's activity. Advanced in rank were:

Greg Foley, from second to first class; David Stein, from second to first class, and James Stein Jr., from second to first class.

A number of other members of the troop passed advancement requirements and earned merit badges in Scout skills.

Brewery Workers Outing August 10

Brewery Workers Local Union 265 will hold its annual picnic August 10 at Ali Ghan Shrine picnic grounds from 11 a. m. until 6 p. m.

All workers of the Queen City and Cumberland breweries, retired members of Local 265, and male staff members of both companies are invited to attend.

Charles F. Martin is general secretary.

Five Youths To Attend EUB Va. Conference

Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church will send five youths to the EUB Virginia Conference, an annual youth assembly, to be held near Harrisonburg. The group, accompanied by Rev. C. W. Tinsman, pastor, will leave Sunday for the event which will conclude August 9. Those planning to attend are Jean Gross, Sharon Bone, Susan Meyers, Janet Sue Poland and Linda Whiteman.

Fire Destroys 12-Room House Near Midland

One Building Saved Pre-Dates Civil War

A 12-room dwelling which was a church about a century ago before being renovated was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning at Woodland which is located off Maryland Route 36 about two miles west of Midland.

The dwelling was the property of Christopher Kaefer who is reportedly visiting in Florida.

Two volunteer fire companies fought the blaze and kept the flames from destroying two other buildings in the vicinity including a former school house which predates the Civil War.

About 3 a. m. yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Winebrenner, who reside about 100 yards from the destroyed building, were awakened by the glow of fire.

Volunteer firemen from Midland responded to the fire and later a group of firefighters from Shaft arrived on the scene.

Firemen said over 2,000 feet of hose were laid in order to extinguish the blaze.

Slightly damaged by the fire were a nearby garage used for storage and an old log store building which formerly housed a school which was used many years ago.

The log building which reportedly pre-dates the Civil War was used at one time for church services on Sunday and as a school during the week.

Twenty-eight firemen from Midland responded with four pieces of fire fighting equipment and the tank truck and pumper with volunteers from Shaft went to the fire.

Dog Licenses Now Available

Allegany County dog licenses have been on sale since July 1 at office of County Tax Collector Francis G. Philpot but comparatively few of them have been sold.

These tags, effective for the fiscal year which started July 1, should be purchased before September 1. Both dog wardens, Merwin R. Hast Jr. and Burza Hanlin, and the trial magistrates also have them for sale.

There is no change in price. They are $2 for females and $1 for males and spayed females.

Three Receive Probation But Two Committed

Judge Sentences Five In Court

Two young men were committed yesterday by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey and three others were placed on probation.

Donald Lee Festerman, 28, formerly of 933 Glenwood Street, was sentenced by Judge Cobey to one year in the Maryland House of Correction. He had been convicted July 12 by Judge Cobey of carnal knowledge of a 15-year-old girl the night of April 9. He was represented by Attorney Ronald C. Brubaker.

Judge Cobey stipulated that Festerman's sentence shall be served after he completes a four-year sentence in the Maryland Penitentiary for forgery, imposed on May 13.

William Lee Sowers, 23, also of 933 Glenwood Street, received a one-year suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction on a charge of carnal knowledge of the same 15-year-old girl. Sowers is Festerman's stepson. Judge Cobey suspended the sentence for three years and stressed that Sowers must remain on good behavior, abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages and report regularly to the probation officer, James Lewis. Sowers was represented by Attorney Earl E. Manges.

Both Festerman and Sowers pleaded not guilty at their trial July 12 but both were found guilty by Judge Cobey.

John Earl Martin, 19, of Lonaconing, was sentenced to the Maryland Institution for Men for a term not to exceed three years. He had pleaded guilty July 9 to breaking into the Lonaconing VFW Home from which three cases of beer were stolen April 20, and attempting to break into the Lonaconing American Legion Home on April 27.

Two brothers from Baltimore, James Robert Brennan, 16, and Paul Richard Brennan, 18, both of 4 Old North Point Road, were given suspended sentences at the Maryland Institution for Men.

These terms were for not more than two years. Judge Cobey placed them under probation for three years and stipulated among other provisions that they must complete their high school education.

They too had pleaded guilty on July 9. James Brennan was charged with both breaking and entering and attempted breaking and entering, as was Martin. Paul Brenner was charged only with the actual burglary.

Martin and the Brennan brothers were represented by Noel Speir Cook, their court-appointed attorney.

Zoning Unit Lists Meetings

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission has scheduled a series of meetings through October 1 in connection with the Cumberland Urban Renewal Program.

The schedule, approved at a meeting of the commission Tuesday night on proposed subdivision regulations, includes a meeting August 5 for discussion of district regulations and of the land use plan, and on August 20 for discussion of local planning and zoning.

Two meetings are scheduled in September. A joint public hearing on planning and zoning will be held September 10 and action on the planning and zoning program and presentation of the capital improvements program will be covered at a meeting September 17.

Action on the capital improvement program is scheduled for a meeting on October 1.

All meetings will be held at City Hall.

Sewage OK Procedure Is Changed

New procedure to be followed in receiving sewage clearance in order to obtain a building permit will be placed in effect today by Allegany County Health Department.

To obtain a sewage clearance permit under the new regulation a standard percolation test must be made on the lot by Health Department Sanitarians to ascertain the porosity of the soil and feasibility of an underground sewage disposal system.

When results of the test are known the lot owner must then draw up scale plans and specifications to submit to the Health Department. Sewage clearance will be issued after approval of the plans.

Gaylord Brooks, senior sanitarian, said the main reason for the new procedures is to avoid errors before construction starts on the lots. He said the septic system is a very important feature of suburban housing and good deal of time and effort can be saved if sewage system feasibility is checked before construction begins.

Automatic washers, dish washers and garbage grinders, are only a few of the appliances which have increased useage of water and caused innumerable failures of septic systems. The Health Department is doing everything it can to make sure this doesn't occur too often, Mr. Brooks said.

Copies of the new procedures and directions for standard percolation tests are available at the Allegany County Planning and Zoning office, Court House basement.

Red Men Plan Outing Sunday At Shrine Club

Tonkaway Tribe 120, Improved Order of Red Men, and Algonquin Council 54, Degree of Pocahontas, will hold their annual family picnic on Sunday at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club picnic grounds.

The outing will be held from noon until 9 p. m. and games for the children will begin at 2 p. m. They will be given treats. There will also be games for the grownups, who will be served refreshments.

Members of the various committees include Lois Wilson, supplies; John Wilson, Lois Wilson, William Combs, Dorothy Combs, Phyllis McGaughey, Russell McGaughey, Ruth Twigg, Mayme Bramble and John Flora, entertainment; Georgie Myers, Lola Taylor, games; Dolores Webb, Grace Weaver, Susie Batt, Grace Davis, Rosemary Corley, June Lowery, Violet Twigg, Pat Lalley, Thomas Lowery, Lloyd Myers, Lillian Flora and Janet Isner, refreshments; William Payton, transportation of supplies.

The two local organizations also have been invited to the "Statewide Red Men's Family Day" program which will be held at Gwynn Oak Park, Baltimore, on Sunday from noon until 7 p. m.

Washington Trip Planned By YMCA

A sightseeing trip to Washington is being planned for Saturday by Central YMCA, said Benjamin Haines, "Y" secretary, who said the supervised trip will begin at 7:30 a.m.

All interested children under the age of 14 must place their reservation by this evening and the program fee must be paid by today.

While in Washington, the youngsters will visit the Zoo, the Washington Monument, Smithsonian Institution and will see the changing of the guard at Arlington National Cemetery.

Phone reservations for the trip will be accepted by calling PA 4-5445. Mr. Haines said only 20 reservations remain to be filled.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Begins County Tour

The mobile chest X-ray unit will begin a two-week area tour this afternoon at Westernport. The unit will be at Westernport parking lot No. 1 today from 1 to 7 p. m. Tomorrow it will visit the Lonaconing Health Center from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. and the Midland Fire Hall from 2:30 until 5 p. m.

The mobile unit is jointly sponsored by the TB Association and the Allegany County Health Department.

All persons over 18 years of age and especially those with a past history of pneumonia, influenza, pleurisy or chronic lung disease should have a chest X-ray, urged officials.

Student To Speak

The Sunday evening service at Calvary EUB Church will be under the direction of Edward Dyche, a ministerial student in the Church of Christ and presently enrolled in Abilene (Tex.) Christian College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eugene Dyche, Williams Road.

Phyllis Wise Is Selected Poultry Queen

23 Compete At Moorefield

Miss Phyllis Wise of Old Fields, W. Va., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wise, was crowned Miss Poultry Queen at the Moorefield Poultry Festival and Convention last night.

A 16-year-old blonde student at Moorefield High School, Miss Wise was selected from among a score of beauties and was crowned by Ernest J. Nesius, vice president of West Virginia University and director of Appalachian Center.

She is from a well-known Hardy County family and her grandfather, C. C. Wise, is remembered as a long-time clerk of court at Moorefield.

First runner-up in the competition was Miss Sally Welton McNeil, a student at Marshall University, and second runner-up is Miss Susan Vance, a student at Moorefield High School.

Miss Wise succeeds Miss Deborah Sindy, the 1962 queen, who participated in last night's festivities at the high school.

Special guest was Miss West Virginia Centennial Queen, Miss Nancy Jo Conwell of Clarksburg.

The other contestants who are princesses in the Court of Honor included Martha Baker, Judy Brennan, Marcia Combs, Sue Denny, Jean Evans, Judy Feaster, Kathy Groves, Marion Faye Hawse, Susan Hott, Janet Pack, Nancy Parsons, Pat Reynolds, Ann Rodgers, Karen Seldon, Carol Ann Snyder, Judy Taylor, Delores Van Meter, Mary W. Waddy, Ruthie Westfall and Paula Sue McDowell.

The queen, her maids of honor and the princesses will be seen tonight in the big festival parade, along with Miss Centennial Queen and other celebrities. (Story on page 14).

234 Marriage Licenses Sold During July

The month which ended yesterday was the second busiest this year for the issuance of marriage licenses in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Gusteen H. Linaburg, marriage license clerk at the Court House, said 234 marriage licenses were issued in July. That was 29 fewer than in June when 253 were sold.

Last month's total was just two under the 236 issued in July 1962.

After seven months some 1,368 marriage licenses have been issued this year. That is 97.9 per cent of the 1,398 issued in the corresponding seven months of 1962.

Monthly totals with the 1962 figure listed before the 1963 figure in each case:

January — 164 and 193; February — 163 and 148; March — 176 and 152; April — 166 and 180; May — 220 and 208; June — 273 and 253 and July — 236 and 234.

UCT Changes Date, Place Of Meetings

Future meetings of Cumberland Council, United Commercial Travelers, will be held in the Knights of Malta Hall, Prospect Square, according to Thomas J. Wotring, senior counselor.

At a recent meeting of the order it was decided a change in meeting place would be desirable and several places were inspected. Quarters were rented in the Knights of Malta Hall, Mr. Wotring said, and the first meeting there will be held September 19.

The lodge also agreed that Saturday night is no longer a desirable night to hold meetings and in the future the council will meet on the third Thursday of each month at 7:30 p. m.

Ruins Of Woodland Blaze

In the foreground can be seen the ruins of a 12-room dwelling which was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning at Woodland located about two miles west of Midland. On the left of the picture can be seen an old log building which was a former school house and pre-dates the Civil War. Volunteer firemen from Midland and Shaft extinguished the blaze.

Tfc. Robert C. Dishong said Miss Morgan was driving the sedan east on the Klondyke Road about 200 yards east of Winebrenner's Store when the car began to "shimmy" and went out of control.

The car careened to the right of the highway and rammed into the tree. The right front of the vehicle hit the tree. All three girls were riding in the front seat of the car.

The accident occurred at 7:20 p. m., police said.

Gets Distinguished Citizen Award

Retiring Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon, second from right, and Former Governor William Preston Lane Jr., right, look at a Distinguished Citizenship Award sent to Mr. Conlon by Governor Tawes and presented at a testimonial dinner in Mr. Conlon's honor last night at Ali Ghan Shrine Club. Also admiring the award are the new acting postmaster William B. Orndorff, left, and Andrew E. Newton, director of the Washington Regional Office, Post Office Department, speaker for the testimonial event sponsored by the postal employes. Mr. Conlon received gifts from the employes and former members of the Maryland State Guard. Mr. Orndorff will be officially installed in office Saturday morning in a public ceremony at the Court House. Mr. Conlon retires after serving the longest term of any postmaster in the history of the Cumberland Post Office.

Three Receive Probation But Two Committed

Judge Sentences Five In Court

Two young men were committed yesterday by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey and three others were placed on probation.

Donald Lee Festerman, 28, formerly of 933 Glenwood Street, was sentenced by Judge Cobey to one year in the Maryland House of Correction. He had been convicted July 12 by Judge Cobey of carnal knowledge of a 15-year-old girl the night of April 9. He was represented by Attorney Ronald C. Brubaker.

Judge Cobey stipulated that Festerman's sentence shall be served after he completes a four-year sentence in the Maryland Penitentiary for forgery, imposed on May 13.

William Lee Sowers, 23, also of 933 Glenwood Street, received a one-year suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction on a charge of carnal knowledge of the same 15-year-old girl. Sowers is Festerman's stepson. Judge Cobey suspended the sentence for three years and stressed that Sowers must remain on good behavior, abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages and report regularly to the probation officer, James Lewis. Sowers was represented by Attorney Earl E. Manges.

Both Festerman and Sowers pleaded not guilty at their trial July 12 but both were found guilty by Judge Cobey.

John Earl Martin, 19, of Lonaconing, was sentenced to the Maryland Institution for Men for a term not to exceed three years. He had pleaded guilty July 9 to breaking into the Lonaconing VFW Home from which three cases of beer were stolen April 20, and attempting to break into the Lonaconing American Legion Home on April 27.

Two brothers from Baltimore, James Robert Brennan, 16, and Paul Richard Brennan, 18, both of 4 Old North Point Road, were given suspended sentences at the Maryland Institution for Men.

These terms were for not more than two years. Judge Cobey placed them under probation for three years and stipulated among other provisions that they must complete their high school education.

They too had pleaded guilty on July 9. James Brennan was charged with both breaking and entering and attempted breaking and entering, as was Martin. Paul Brenner was charged only with the actual burglary.

Martin and the Brennan brothers were represented by Noel Speir Cook, their court-appointed attorney.

Sewage OK Procedure Is Changed

New procedure to be followed in receiving sewage clearance in order to obtain a building permit will be placed in effect today by Allegany County Health Department.

To obtain a sewage clearance permit under the new regulation a standard percolation test must be made on the lot by Health Department Sanitarians to ascertain the porosity of the soil and feasibility of an underground sewage disposal system.

When results of the test are known the lot owner must then draw up scale plans and specifications to submit to the Health Department. Sewage clearance will be issued after approval of the plans.

Gaylord Brooks, senior sanitarian, said the main reason for the new procedures is to avoid errors before construction starts on the lots. He said the septic system is a very important feature of suburban housing and good deal of time and effort can be saved if sewage system feasibility is checked before construction begins.

Automatic washers, dish washers and garbage grinders, are only a few of the appliances which have increased useage of water and caused innumerable failures of septic systems. The Health Department is doing everything it can to make sure this doesn't occur too often, Mr. Brooks said.

Copies of the new procedures and directions for standard percolation tests are available at the Allegany County Planning and Zoning office, Court House basement.

Phyllis Wise Is Selected Poultry Queen

23 Compete At Moorefield

Miss Phyllis Wise of Old Fields, W. Va., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wise, was crowned Miss Poultry Queen at the Moorefield Poultry Festival and Convention last night.

A 16-year-old blonde student at Moorefield High School, Miss Wise was selected from among a score of beauties and was crowned by Ernest J. Nesius, vice president of West Virginia University and director of Appalachian Center.

The queen, her maids of honor and the princesses will be seen tonight in the big festival parade, along with Miss Centennial Queen and other celebrities. (Story on page 14).

Mrs. May Bolt Is Named To School Board

Gov. J. Millard Tawes yesterday announced the appointment of Mrs. May B. Bolt, Eckhart, to the Allegany County Board of Education, effective as of Tuesday.

Mrs. Bolt's appointment was made on the recommendation of the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee, which was compelled by law to nominate a woman for the position.

The postmaster at Eckhart for 19 years, Mrs. Bolt will serve on the Board of Education until 1964, completing the unexpired term of Mrs. Richard Winer. Mrs. Winer, named to a five-year term in 1959, resigned recently because of her husband's transfer to Wilmington, Del., by Hercules Powder Company.

Born in Eckhart, a daughter of Charles and Stella (Engle) Bruner, of there, Mrs. Bolt is the widow of W. Joseph Bolt.

A graduate of Beall High School in 1934, Mrs. Bolt has maintained an active interest in school work. She is a past president of the Parent-Teacher Association of Eckhart School, has served on the County PTA Council and also on the Maryland Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Mrs. Bolt has been a night student in business administration at Allegany Community College here for the past two years, and also completed an associated course in that line of study at Frostburg State College this year.

She is a member of Eckhart Methodist Church and has been a teacher in its church school for many years.

She has a son, William J. Bolt, who is a graduate of LaSalle High School and of the University of Notre Dame, class of 1962. He currently is serving with the Army at Fort Hood, Texas, as a second lieutenant in the infantry. Lt. Bolt recently married the former Miss Diana Meehan of Frostburg. She is a daughter of Col. and Mrs. Charles Meehan, now of Grove City, Pa. Col Meehan is a retired Army officer who now is teaching at Grove City College.

Serving with Mrs. Bolt on the School Board are J. Goodloe Jackson, president; T. Donald Shires, who succeeded Mrs. Winer as vice president; Kenneth R. Malcolm and Mrs. George M. Young.

Mr. Malcolm is the dean among the school board members, having served continuously since May 28, 1951. Mr. Jackson has been a member since June 23, 1955; Mr. Shires since May 17, 1960, and Mrs. Young since April 27, 1961.

Worker Hospitalized

A 30-year-old Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant employe was hospitalized yesterday with burns sustained in an accident while he was at work.

Edward C. Nave, National Highway, LaVale, was reported in "satisfactory" condition last night in Memorial Hospital, according to attaches who said he sustained burns on the upper part of his shoulder, left arm and right thigh.

Mr. Nave was admitted to the hospital about 5 p. m.

License Transferred

Nellie G. Boore was issued a Class D beer license yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for premises on Bedford Road. This was a transfer of the license on the same premises formerly held by John J. Cullen and Virginia B. Cullen, trading as JB Bar.

Smerling Takes Ohio Northern Registrar Post

Resigns Position At College Here

William H. Smerling, registrar of Allegany Community College since its establishment in the summer of 1961, has resigned to become registrar of Ohio Northern University at Ada, according to Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, president of the college here.

Mr. Smerling's resignation is effective today. He and his wife and two children had been living here at 709 Gephart Drive. They were members of the Presbyterian Church. While here he was serving as secretary of the Maryland Junior College Association.

Dr. Zimmer is interviewing applicants to fill the vacancy while attending the summer institute for junior college administrative teams this week in Daytona Beach, Fla.

A 1949 graduate of Northern Illinois University, Mr. Smerling obtained his master's degree at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and had done work toward his doctorate at the University of Chicago.

From 1957 until coming here in 1961, he served the junior college program in Chicago as registrar and director of placement.

Ohio Northern University is a Methodist-affiliated college which was established in 1871 and at last report had a student body of 1,872.

Local Dwelling Entry Tried

Earlier this week someone attempted to break into a local home, according to city police, who also reported they were notified of a case of vandalism.

Thomas Haythorn of 221 South Mechanic Street reported to police that he discovered an attempt to jimmy a lock on the front door although he didn't know when it had been done.

Mrs. William Goss, 1406 Virginia Avenue, reported that someone cut the inner lining of a portable pool she and her husband had purchased for their children. The pool had been placed near their home and was filled with water.

She told police a red stop sign had been carried from somewhere and thrown on the top cover, which was ripped. The damage occurred sometime after 10:30 p. m. Tuesday, said City Police Detective Captain James E. Van.

Local Couples Returning From Jewish Mission Tour

Dr. and Mrs. Jack E. Arch, 75 LaVale Court, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Schwab, LaVale, will leave Paris today for the U.S. following a three-week tour of Israel and Europe as members of the Young Leadership Mission of the United Jewish Appeal. The tour was headed by Herbert A. Friedman, UJA executive vice chairman.

The mission consisted of 100 young men and women selected by the UJA because of interest shown and work previously completed in rallying support for annual campaigns on behalf of Israel and of more than 275,000 needy Jews in other parts of the world. "Following their return, mission members will report on their findings and serve as key men in their communities for the 1964 UJA campaign," stated mission officials.

While in Paris, members of the mission were the guests of the American Joint Distribution Committee (JDC), primary agent for aiding needy Jews overseas, and studied at first hand the effects of the influx of North African Jews upon the French Jewish community. In less than two years this migration has increased the Jewish population of France by 45 per cent, and the major part of outside help received comes from JDC, which gets its funds from the United Jewish Appeal.

17-Year-Old Boy Kills Rattler In Front Yard

Strange antics of the family cat warned Thomas Strawderman, 17-year-old Valley Road boy, of the presence of a 48-inch rattlesnake which the youngster dispatched with a shotgun.

The rattlesnake was discovered in the front yard of the Strawderman home near a lilac bush. The cat jumped when she heard the rattler.

This snake had 13 buttons and a rattler. It was the second time Thomas had killed a rattlesnake. About two years ago young Strawderman killed his first rattler.

The Strawdermans live north of Pea Vine Run Road almost to the Pennsylvania line.

Fire Destroys 12-Room House Near Midland

One Building Saved Pre-Dates Civil War

A 12-room dwelling which was a church about a century ago before being renovated was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning at Woodland which is located off Maryland Route 36 about two miles west of Midland.

The dwelling was the property of Christopher Kaefer who is reportedly visiting in Florida.

Two volunteer fire companies fought the blaze and kept the flames from destroying two other buildings in the vicinity including a former school house which predates the Civil War.

About 3 a. m. yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Winebrenner, who reside about 100 yards from the destroyed building, were awakened by the glow of fire.

Volunteer firemen from Midland responded to the fire and later a group of firefighters from Shaft arrived on the scene.

Firemen said over 2,000 feet of hose were laid in order to extinguish the blaze.

Slightly damaged by the fire were a nearby garage used for storage and an old log store building which formerly housed a school which was used many years ago.

The log building which reportedly pre-dates the Civil War was used at one time for church services on Sunday and as a school during the week.

Twenty-eight firemen from Midland responded with four pieces of fire fighting equipment and the tank truck and pumper with volunteers from Shaft went to the fire.

Dog Licenses Now Available

Allegany County dog licenses have been on sale since July 1 at office of County Tax Collector Francis G. Philpot but comparatively few of them have been sold.

These tags, effective for the fiscal year which started July 1, should be purchased before September 1. Both dog wardens, Merwin R. Hast Jr. and Burza Hanlin, and the trial magistrates also have them for sale.

There is no change in price. They are $2 for females and $1 for males and spayed females.

Zoning Unit Lists Meetings

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission has scheduled a series of meetings through October 1 in connection with the Cumberland Urban Renewal Program.

The schedule, approved at a meeting of the commission Tuesday night on proposed subdivision regulations, includes a meeting August 5 for discussion of district regulations and of the land use plan, and on August 20 for discussion of local planning and zoning.

Two meetings are scheduled in September. A joint public hearing on planning and zoning will be held September 10 and action on the planning and zoning program and presentation of the capital improvements program will be covered at a meeting September 17.

Action on the capital improvement program is scheduled for a meeting on October 1.

All meetings will be held at City Hall.

Washington Trip Planned By YMCA

A sightseeing trip to Washington is being planned for Saturday by Central YMCA, said Benjamin Haines, "Y" secretary, who said the supervised trip will begin at 7:30 a.m.

All interested children under the age of 14 must place their reservation by this evening and the program fee must be paid by today.

While in Washington, the youngsters will visit the Zoo, the Washington Monument, Smithsonian Institution and will see the changing of the guard at Arlington National Cemetery.

Phone reservations for the trip will be accepted by calling PA 4-5445. Mr. Haines said only 20 reservations remain to be filled.

Mobile X-Ray Unit Begins County Tour

The mobile chest X-ray unit will begin a two-week area tour this afternoon at Westernport. The unit will be at Westernport parking lot No. 1 today from 1 to 7 p. m. Tomorrow it will visit the Lonaconing Health Center from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. and the Midland Fire Hall from 2:30 until 5 p. m.

The mobile unit is jointly sponsored by the TB Association and the Allegany County Health Department.

All persons over 18 years of age and especially those with a past history of pneumonia, influenza, pleurisy or chronic lung disease should have a chest X-ray, urged officials.

Student To Speak

The Sunday evening service at Calvary EUB Church will be under the direction of Edward Dyche, a ministerial student in the Church of Christ and presently enrolled in Abilene (Tex.) Christian College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eugene Dyche, Williams Road.

234 Marriage Licenses Sold During July

The month which ended yesterday was the second busiest this year for the issuance of marriage licenses in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Gusteen H. Linaburg, marriage license clerk at the Court House, said 234 marriage licenses were issued in July. That was 29 fewer than in June when 253 were sold.

Last month's total was just two under the 236 issued in July 1962.

After seven months some 1,368 marriage licenses have been issued this year. That is 97.9 per cent of the 1,398 issued in the corresponding seven months of 1962.

Monthly totals with the 1962 figure listed before the 1963 figure in each case:

January — 164 and 193; February — 163 and 148; March — 176 and 152; April — 166 and 180; May — 220 and 208; June — 273 and 253 and July — 236 and 234.
